POLITICAL BOSS SHOT TO DEATH

Death Of Henchman At Kansas City Also Being Probed

Youth Admits Slaying His Young Fiancee

California Youth Strangles 18-Year-Old Girl To Death

OAKLAND, Cal., April 6.—(INS)—Authorities said an Oakland policeman's son confessed to his father from a hospital bed that he strangled and beat the life out of his beautiful young fiancee in a quarrel over "other fellows" and then tried to kill himself.

Following his dramatic confession of the "lovers' lane" slaying in a parked car, 19-year-old Arthur E. Prindle begged for his own death, repeatedly crying, "I want to die. I want to die."

The slaying victim, 18-year-old Sally Ann Humphreys, an Oakland insurance company clerk and daughter of a lawyer, was found dead early yesterday in the front seat of a convertible auto on a lonely road in the Oakland hills.

Violently Beaten

The petite brunette had been violently beaten and strangled with a man's belt cinched tightly about her neck.

Unconscious in the back seat lay the Prindle youth, his wrist slashed and an overdose of sedatives in his system.

After the boy recovered consciousness at Oakland's Permanente Hospital last night, his father, veteran patrolman Lester J. Prindle, leaned over his bed and gently asked, "What happened, son?"

"I killed Sally," the youth whispered. "I choked her to death because she had been going out with other fellows."

Young Prindle, who has a record of two arrests and one reformatory term as a juvenile delinquent saw his softly weeping mother standing beside his dad as he gained strength and went on with his story. At his bedside, too, was Deputy District Attorney Wakefield Taylor, taking the statement, as Patrolman Prindle asked questions of his son.

"Sally and I had been going together for about a year," the boy related. "Then she started stepping out with other fellows.

"About a month ago I took her to the Claremont Country Club and we quarreled. I slapped her. After that she wouldn't answer my telephone calls.

"Tuesday I picked her up after work and we drove up Fish Ranch road. We had a quarrel.

Hit and Choked Her

"First I hit her with my fists. Then I choked her with my hands and then with my belt. I must have choked her for 45 minutes.

"Then I climbed in the back

Housing Bill Agreement Lacks Truman's Proposal

By CHARLES B. SEIB
(I. N. S. Staff Correspondent)

WASHINGTON, April 6.—The House takes up a conference agreement today on a housing bill authorizing two billion 250 million dollars in government-insured mortgages, plus special benefits for veterans.

Lacks Truman Proposal

The compromise lacks the two billion dollar cooperative housing provision requested by President Truman. But administration leaders were confident that the chief executive would sign the revised measure.

Senate-House conferees reached agreement late last night. Chairman Spence (D) Ky., of the House Banking Committee, said he would call up the report today. Senate action is expected in a few days.

Last minute provisions agreed to by the conferees would:

1. Authorize the Federal National Mortgage Association — which the trade calls "Fannie May" —to buy outright 250 million dollars worth of insured mortgages, but ruled out the making of future commitments. This admittedly would draw tight the reins of the government's secondary mortgage program, which has become an important addition to federal expenditures.

Turn Over Projects

2. Turn over to communities 150 wartime housing projects containing 43,000 units and let the local housing authorities dispose of them as they see fit. These units are scattered through 27 states.

3. Place an interest rate of 2.5 per cent on 300 million dollars of housing for colleges and universities provided for by the bill.

4. End the 'combination" of Federal Housing Administration and Veterans Administration insured loans on Dec. 31 and provide more liberal inducements to lenders to enable veterans to get 100 per cent guaranteed mortgages at four per cent. There now is said to be a scarcity of such money.

5. Provide that cooperative groups, if 65 per cent are veterans, can get guaranteed mortgages up to 95 per cent of value on projects costing up to five million dollars.

6. Increase the insurance ceiling on "economy houses" to $8,000 for two bedroom units in high-priced metropolitan areas with $950 added for each extra bedroom.

7. Transfer from the Agriculture Department to the Public Housing Administration the operation and disposition of farm labor camps in California, Florida, and some southwestern states. The understanding is that these camps are to be turned over to local authorities.

Doesn't Remember 'Mercy Killing'

ALLENTOWN, Pa., April 6.—(INS)—Harold A. Mohr insisted under cross-examination today that he does not remember the "mercy killing" shooting of his blind, cancer-stricken brother last March 8.

Asked pointblank by District Attorney Kenneth H. Koch, 'did you shoot your brother?" Mohr replied:

'I don't deny it, but I don't remember".

Mohhr, throughout his cross-examination, stuck by his story that his mind went 'blank" the night his 55-year-old, hopelessly ill brother was shot and killed.

URGES AID TO DRIVE

HARRISBURG, April 6.—(INS)—Gov. James H. Duff today called upon Pennsylvanians to rally to the 1950 cancer crusade seeking to raise more than $800,000 in the state to fight the disease.

"It is the aim of the society to provide funds for research in the causes and treatment of this dread disease," Duff said. "As governor of the commonwealth I heartily subscribe to this campaign."

Toronto Fire Fatal To Six

TORONTO, April 6.—(INS)—Six children in a family of 10 died today in an explosion and fire in their home in Scarborough, a suburb of Toronto.

Mr. and Mrs. Roy Harding survived the blast, along with two children.

The parents were able to rescue three-year-old Howard, and Paul, 14, jumped to safety from a window.

The children who perished were Edith, 8; Earl, 10; Tim, 11; John, 13; Davis, 15 and Ruth, 16.

Complications On Plan To Send Rice To China

By JOHN A. REICHMANN
(I. N. S. Staff Correspondent)

WASHINGTON, April 6.—Serious domestic and international repercussions are anticipated today as a result of the projected United States plan to send wheat and rice to communist China.

The plan is sponsored by Sen. Knowland (R) Calif., who is primarily identified as a supporter of the Chinese Nationalist regime.

Secretary of State Acheson has acknowledged that this project might be very valuable, while admitting the many difficulties in the way of carrying it out.

Two Factors

Two factors are said to prevail in administration thinking. They are:

1. The political opposition that may arise domestically were the U. S. to send food to the famine stricken areas of red held territory.

2. The beneftis that might be gained diplomatically should the Chinese reds refuse this aid or accept it on terms unacceptable to the U. S.

Sixty Missing As Boat Sinks

LISBON, April 6.—(INS)—Police at Oporto said today at least 60 persons are missing in the sinking last night of a ferry boat in Portugal's Douro river.

The ferry with some 70 persons aboard reportedly struck an underwater quay hidden by a high tide.

No Agreement Yet On Proposals For Truman Budget Cuts

WASHINGTON, April 6.—(INS)—House Republican leader are reported today unable to agree on substantial cuts to be made in President Truman's budget.

The GOP policy committee has adjourned after several apparently fruitless meetings until after the April 7-18 Easter recess.

In the meantime, Rep. Taber of New York, who is spearheading the Republican drive for economy, has been given the task of determining what cuts can be made in the 29 billion dollar omnibus appropriations bill.

Prepare For Time Change

Mayor John F. Haven today announced that city emlpoyes will start and quit work one hour earlier, when daylight savings time becomes effective in Youngstown, Butler and other nearby cities. He added that as yet he does not know the exact dtae when the plan, which was effective last year, will be made effective.

Senate Adopts New D.P. Bill

Measure Would Admit 359,000 To U.S.

WASHINGTON, April 6.—(INS)—Quick House approval is predicted today for a liberalized displaced persons bill that admits 359,000 homeless Europeans to the United States.

The bill, adopted by the Senate in a night session, increases the number of DP's that may enter the U. S., and loosens restrictions on their origins and professions.

The Senate slapped its own Judiciary committee by rejecting its restrictive measure to pass a substitute by Sen. Kilgore (D) W. Va. The committee version was sponsored by Chairman McCarran (D) Nev. Kilgore declared:

"It's a good, workable bill, I think the House conferees will accept practically everything added by the Senate."

McCarran agreed that the bill is an improvement over the 1948 law which it replaces but asserted:

Lets Down Bars

"It lets down the bars for all kinds of chincanery by the international refugee organization. However, the 15 months fight by the committee has done a lot of good."

McCarran also said he thought the conferees will accept the bill "pretty much" as the Senate passed it.

The chief differences in the two versions are:

The Senate voted to admit 359,000 displaced persons by June 30, 1951, instead of the preesnt law's 205,000 by June 30, 1950. The House bill would admit 339,000 by June 30, 1951.

(About 135,000 have been admitted since the present law was passed in 1948.)

Amendment Made

The Senate tacked on an amendment winding up the displaced persons commission by Aug. 31, 1951.

In its total, the Senate included 20,000 war orphans—15,000 more than the House.

The Senate provided that 54,744 persons of German ethnic origin who were expelled from eastern Europe may use regular immigration quotas for Germany or the countries of their origin. This is in addition to the 359,000. The House figures on this was 52,623.

The Senate eliminated a House provision which would allow 15,000 persons behind the iron curtain who are not yet DPS to come under the program in the future.

The Senate added 5,000 Italo-Slovenes from Venezia-Giulia—the territory around the Free City of Trieste given to Yugoslavia after the war—who fled into Italy.

Bridge Falls; 30 Are Killed

RIO DE JANEIRO, April 6.—(INS)—Thirty persons reportedly were killed and 140 injured today when a bridge over the Los Indios river collapsed under the weight of the Leopoldina Night Express to Campos in the State of Rios.

The newspaper Diario Noite said several cars plunged into the river near Vendas Das Pedras in southeast Brazil.

First reports said the bridge had been weakened by recent floods.

Emergency aid has been rushed to the scene of the disaster.

Erie Man Is Denied American Citizenship

PITTSBURGH, April 6.—(INS)—An Erie man was denied American citizenship today by Federal Judge Wallace S. Gourley—but not for the reasons advanced by U. S. immigration authorities.

Immigration officials argued against granting Steve Markiewicz citizenship on the grounds that he had once been a communist and had been ordered out of the country in 1933.

Judge Gourley ruled that the communist issue was not pertinent, since Markiewicz quit the party in 1934 and the deportation order was no longer applicable.

But Judge Gourley did find Markiewicz's record showed several moral offenses. Markiewicz was barred from eitizenship on that grounds.

Man Accused By Sen. McCarthy Makes Denial

Lattimore Asserts McCarthy Charges 'Contemptible Lies'

By WILLIAM THEIS
(I. N. S. Staff Correspondent)

WASHINGTON, April 6—Owen Lattimore, accused by Sen. McCarthy (R) Wis., of being the "top Soviet espionage agent in the United States," swore today that McCarthy's charges are "base and contemptible lies".

Lattimore told the Senate committee probing one GOP senator's allegations of Communist infiltration of the state department that McCarthy has "flagrantly violated" his responsibility as a member of Congress and as an American.

The far east expert on whom McCarthy has said the charges of Red infestation of U. S. foreign policy must stand or fall declared his innocence in a 42-page sworn statement heavily supplemented by letter and telegrams denouncing the McCarthy charges.

Demands Right To Question

McCarthy demanded the right to cross-examine Lattimore, but Sen. Tydings (D) Md., chairman of the investigating committee ruled that the Wisconsin senator must

White House Denies Report About Dulles

(BULLETIN)

WASHINGTON, April 6.—(INS)—The state department announced today that John Foster Dulles, veteran Republican foreign policy expert, will join the government as an advisor on broad policy matters in the international field.

By ROBERT G. NIXON
(I. N. S. Staff Correspondent)

U. S. SUB BASE, KEY WEST, Fla., April 6.—The White House today scotched a published report that President Truman will name John Foster Dulles as top State department policy adviser and ambassador-at-large.

Apprised of the report about the Republican foreign policy expert, Press Secretary Charles G. Ross said for the President:

"It is not so."

The story caused lifted eyebrows in the White House circle at Key West.

The President at his news conference last Thursday eliminated Dulles from the ranks of Republicans he has under consideration for appointment to the job of roving ambassador, succeeding Philip policy adviser to Secretary of State Acheson.

"Mixed Up In Politics"

The President, in discussing plans for bringing another outstanding Republican into the administration to bolster the bi-partisan foreign policy front in a troubled world, remarked that Dulles had gotten mixed up in politics.

Dulles, who formally was on the American delegation to the United Nations under appointment by President Truman, was appointed to the Senate by New York Governor Dewey for a brief period. But he was defeated last year by former Democratic governor Herbert Lehman.

Dulles Accepts Job As Advisor

NEW YORK, April 6.—(INS)—Republican John Foster Dulles was named today as a top level state department advisor and agreed to take the bi-partisan job because, he said, the threat from Russia "is as grave as any we have ever faced in a shooting war".

Appointment of Dulles was announced by the state department in Washington and the Republican foreign affairs expert promptly announced his acceptance in a New York news conference.

Dulles struck out bluntly at what he called the present danger to the United States from Soviet Communism—a danger he said makes bi-partisan cooperation imperative.

Missing College Girl Is Located At Miami Beach

BRYN MAWR, Pa., April 6.—(INS)—The hunt for Gertrude C. Nauman, 19-year-old Bryn Mawr College junior who disappeared March 24, was over today with the disclosure that she has been located in a Miami Beach hotel.

State Police Maj. William F. Hoffman, who had been directing a search, announced he was advised by the girl's parents that she had telephoned them from the resort last Tuesday night and was suffering from nervous exhaustion.

The call was not made public, however, in the belief that the girl might move.

Flies To Miami

Her father, Spencer G. Nauman, prominent Harrisburg attorney who had offered a $5000 reward for information leading to her return, flew to Miami Beach, accompanied by the girl's uncle, Conwell H. Olmsted, of Chicago, after receiving the call.

They finally located the girl, and advised Major Hoffman who issued the public announcement last night.

Major Hoffman said, however, that he had not learned any reason for the girl's disappearance, and that apparently she went directly to Miami Beach after leaving the campus March 24 for an Easter vacation which she had been scheduled to spend at home.

Mrs. Nauman, at Harrisburg, refused to give any other details, other than her daughter had been found living alone at the hotel and that was the "full story."

House To Start Easter Recess

WASHINGTON, April 6.—(INS)—The House will begin an 11-day Easter recess tonight, but the Senate will content itself with a one-day rest, plus the ordinary weekend.

The House will adjourn tonight until noon, April 18, while the Senate will go over tonight until Monday.

It is the first "vacation" taken by the House since the second session of the 81st Congress began January 3. House leaders said the legislative agenda was in "good shape."

The House will conclude general debate this afternoon on the 29 billion dollar omnibus appropriations bill and begin voting on the measure when it returns.

With a quiet calendar this week, many House members took advantage of the opportunity to begin their recess early. There were 130 absentees when the roll was called at noon yesterday.

Lone Gunman Robs Airlines Office In Philadelphia

PHILADELPHIA, April 6.—(INS)—A lone gunman held up the central Philadelphia agency of National Airlines, Inc., today and fled with $150.

Lynn Atkins, ticket clrek, said the thug entered shortly before 11 a. m. and requested information on routes, then he pulled a gun and ordered Atkins to "keep still for five minutes".

Atkins described the robber as having light blond hair and between 20 and 22 years of age.

Subs Off Coast Are Russian Is Chinese Claim

By PIERRE J. HUSS
(I. N. S. Staff Correspondent)

LAKE SUCCESS, N. Y., April 6.—Nationalist China is preparing today to offer testimony in the United Nations that foreign submarines sighted off California shores are Russian craft operating out of Chinese mainland ports.

The statements will be made in the course of charges to be brought in U. N. by Tingfu F. Tsiang, chief delegate for Nationalist China, that the Soviet Union has intervened in the Chinese civil war by supplying submarines, warplanes and military technicians to the Mai Tse-tung forces.

Tsiang, over whose continued membership Russian and the Balkan satellites walked out of U. N., is awaiting final instructions from the Formosa regime before presenting his newest complaint to the security council or "little assembly".

Advance information received by Tsiang from Foreign Minister George Yeh instructs him to raise again in U. N. the previous request of Nationalist China for dispatch to Formosa of a neutral air and naval observation group to investigate the reported Soviet participation in the Chinese civil war.

Greatest Show Open For Season

NEW YORK, April 6.—(INS)—The greatest show on earth is greater than ever, a capacity audience at Madison Square Garden agreed last night at the exhausing conclusion of the opening performance of Ringling Bros. and Barnum and Bailey's 1050 circus.

Among the happy children on hand for the curtain raiser of an 8-month tour were such youngsters as Ernest Hemingway, Gloria Swanson, Faye Emerson, John McClain, half the carefree moppets of cafe society, and such recent graduates from mud-pie circles as Michael, Barry and Dennis Considine.

Their happy, guileless faces, shrieks of horror and delight, and caterwauling for peanuts, popcorn and chewing gum served as a traditional backdrop for the incredible wonders unfolded by John Ringling North. The night's receipts were turned over to the Runyon cancer fund.

Report Burglary At Jewelry Store

Burglars stole clocks, cigarette lighters, men's and women's wrist watches, bracelets, ear-rings and necklaces valued at approximately $197, and $15 cash, some time last night from the Harris Jewelry store, second floor, 10½ East Washington street, according to a report made to police early this morning.

The burglary was discovered by Mrs. Frank Campbell, janitress.

Attempt to enter the Zoltani Beauty shop failed.

According to the report, the jewelry store is operated by Donald and Rupert Harris.

The burglars broke a door leading into the store.

Kansas City Politician Is Shot To Death

One Of Henchmen Of Political Leader Also Found Slain

By BERNARD J. McDONALD
(I. N. S. Staff Correspondent)

KANSAS CITY, Mo., April 6.—Charles Binaggio, Kansas City politician who rose to power after the death of machine boss Tom Pendergast, was found shot to death today with one of his henchmen in the 15th Street Democratic Club.

The henchman was identified as Charles Gargotta, an ex-convict and gambling figure. Police said the men were shot through the head with a pistol.

Double Murder

Police Lt. Harry Nesbit of the Homicide squad flatly called the deaths "double murder."

Gargotta's body was found in a pool of blood near the door of the office also known as the First District Democratic club. It served ats Binaggio's headquarters and is situated on Truman boulevard, a 6-lane highway leading from Kansas City to the President's Independence, Mo., home.

Binaggio's body was seated on a chair at a desk about 50 feet from the door.

No weapon was found at the scene.

The bodies were found about 4 a.m. by police investigating a cab driver's report that he heard water running in the club.

The cabbie said he had stopped at a restaurant next door for coffee. He was questioned at police headquarters.

Binaggio, about 44, became a dominant character in the city political picture on Pendergast's death. Since then he has been battling young Jim Pendergast for control of the party organization.

Bednasek Is Back At Home

IOWA CITY, Ia., April 6.—(INS)—Robert Bednasek began "a long rest" at home today and Iowa City—relieved of tension when the University of Iowa student was acquitted of murder in the death of his coed sweetheart—returned to its peaceful, small-town routine.

A wave of near-hysterical excitement swept from the tiny Iowa city courtroom—focus of mounting controversy during the three-week trial—to the campus yesterday when an eight-man, four-woman jury found that Bednasek did not murder Margaret "Gee Gee" Jackson last Dec. 11.

The husky former merchant seaman wept openly when the verdict was returned almost 24 hours after the case went to the jury. He attended church services with his mother and then drove to their Cedar Rapids, Ia., home.

New York Census Takers Are Making Excellent Progress

NEW YORK, April 6.—(INS)—The people getting the lowdown on the nation's largest city are finding it easier going than expected. New York's census officials reported that in four days of question asking the city's 7,000 census takers have suffered only three sprained ankles, one sprained wrist, one wrenched knee.

Possibly setting some kind of a record, not one census taker has complained of being chased by a dog.

I know the calendar says its spring, and I know the buds should be out, and I know that Sunday is Easter Day and the sun should be hanging about. But the street is white with the flying stuff, and the temperature down rather low, and that white appearance can only come from the annual Easter snow. The girls are worried the sun won't shine for the Easter parade and say, they'll have to keep their new duds at home, and it's 38 today.

Deacon Dobson Marks 85 Years

Celebrates Birthday Event In Florida

James P. Caldwell, known in the newspaper world as "Deacon Dobson", had a brand new birthday in Florida on April 2.

For the first time in his life he reached 85 years, and apparently the day was marked by a lot of other folks beside the "Deacon".

He was a newspaperman for half a century or more, most of it spent with The New Castle News. His letter, which follows, tells the story of his birthday celebration down in Florida.

ST. PETERSBURG, Fla.,
April 2, '50.

Mr. Jacob F. Rentz,
President and Manager of "News"

Dear Friend Jake: I am 85 years old today, and the mocking-birds are singing that old familiar hymn, "Happy Birthday to You". But not to be outdone by the feathered songsters, my daughter, Mrs. Wm. J. Caldwell, called me up by long distance telephone and sang "Happy Birthday".

I received a half bushel of cards from New Castle and St. Petersburg friends. The most elaborate card was the one sent me by the New Castle News. It contained the names of the entire News company force, numbering nearly 100. The different folds, when opened formed a red shirt, and the names were scattered all over the front. The sentiment expressed was this: "Greetin's to yer on yer birthday. Our birthday wish ain't fancy, and it didn't cost much jack, but at least it shows we'd give yuh the shirts right off our backs". "Happy birthday".

Mr. and Mrs. J. G. Clements of Edison avenue took me out to dinner. Present also were Mr. and Mrs. Chester Reynolds and the latter's mother, Mrs. Allen, also the mother of Coroner Charles Allen. During the dinner the pianist played "Happy Birthday" and the diners, over 150, sang. I arose with due majesty, waved my napkin, and the crowd clapped hands. It was the first 85th birthday I ever had, and it wasn't so bad, after all. By the time you live that long you get sort of used to it and train your sights on the century mark. Please give my thanks to all the force.

Sincerely,
J. P. CALDWELL.

Plan Intra-Plant Television Setup

AKRON, O. — (INS) — The day may come when one of a labor relations director's greatest problems will be to make sure that the boss is freshly shaved, even in mid-afternoon.

J. Ward Keener, vice-president of B. F. Goodrich, said that intra-plant television systems may become a useful tool in better acquainting employes with the big bosses, in which event video personality and appearance would be important.

"Many employe relations problems arise," Keener said, "because some businesses are so large that the employes and top officials cannot know each other, as they did in former years."

Keener suggested that a company television set-up be utilized to screen programs such as awarding checks to employes who make prize-winning suggestions, important customers placing orders, and even company-and-union grievance meetings.

seat and swallowed twelve sleeping tablets. I was afraid that wouldn't work, so I cut my wrist with a mirror about ten times.

After giving the statement, the boy suddenly shouted:

"I wish I had used my old man's gun on myself. . . . I want to die. . . . I want to die."

Taylor later said the youth's confession, as taken down by the deputy district attorney, included the statement that he had "planned to kill Sally for over a month." Young Prindle said he got the sleeping tablets on a doctor's prescription because he worked nights and could not sleep well days.

The boy added:

"I got some ant poison, too, but I was afraid of the pain and didn't take it."

Youth Will Recover

The youth was subsequently transferred to the County Hospital at Martinez, seat of Contra Costa county, where doctors said he will recover. The slaying took place just beyond the Contra Costa county line. Authorities said a formal murder charge will be lodged against the boy.

Sally's father, Alfred S. Humphreys whose law practice is in San Francisco but who lives in Berkeley, told police that his daughter and the Prindle youth had been betrothed for 18 months before they began breaking off their engagement "every few months."

"The boy was welcome in my home as my own son," said the slain girl's grieving father.

Friends told officials the Prindle youth and the Humphreys girl had been high school classmates for three years and had been "going steady" at least 18 months. They said the young couple had been planning to get married next month.

Tydings told McCarthy that "none of the accused persons had a chance to cross-examine you when you appeared as a witness against them".

Lattimore declared he was willing to answer any questions asked of him.

McCarthy appeared at the hearing, but told reporters he would not try to cross-examine Lattimore through the committee because this would be "completely inadequate".

Lattimore announced that he is bringing a libel action against McCarthy "at the earliest possible moment".

He accused McCarthy of "instituting a reign of terror among officials and employes in the United States government, no one of whom can be sure of safety from attack by the machine gun or irresponsible publicity in Joseph McCarthy's hands."

To Film Warrior's Life Story

NEW YORK, April 6.—One of Hollywood's larger mo'om picture companies has just announced that it will soon commit to film immortality the life story of one of America's most skillfull and least known generals.

I doubt if the warrior's name is to be found in any history text book in general use in the United States. Yet the man himself was a military master whose life has long fascinated a few specialists in history and war, including those at West Point and St. Cyr.

Our hero, unfortunately, had the bad luck to be on of the original Americans, an Indian chief, and he was sufficiently tactless to beat the whey out of a fancy assortment of brass straight from West Point.

This combination of circumstances did not tend to elect a Red Man Mr. America in the Northwest Territory in 1877 when a white man was as loathe to part with his scalp in an Indian uprising as in New England in the sixteen-hundreds.

But school children out in Idaho, where I grew up, who are lucky enough to count among their ancestors a pioneer grandfather or great-grandfather still grow up on tales of Chief Joseph, the Nez Perce chieftain, whom Hollywood is at last going to glorify

Drama and Tragedy

If Hollywood can restrain itself from making just another horse opera of the old west, there is enough for five pictures in the story of this Indian who almost—but not quite—succeeded in leading his people out of the territory of Idaho into Canada and what he hoped was freedom for his tribe.

The Nez Perces were among the few tribes friendly to the white man when he began to flow westward after the discovery of gold at Sutter's mill in California. But it was the misfortune of the Nez Perces, as with many another tribe, to live and hunt over lands coveted by the white man.

If the movies care to follow history, they will show the final powwow attempted by the U. S. government in 1877 to persuade the Indians to move from their valley to the despised Lapwai Reservation in Northern Idaho Territory.

The council lasted three days and on the last day, the government arrested the Nez Perces' holy man, who had sworn never to go to the reservation. Only Chief Joseph restrained his braves from making war then and there and agreed that within thirty days his people would move to Lapwai.

Massacred Families

But on the thirtieth day, a number of Nez Perces swooped down on white settlers in the Salmon river country, still a district of grandois and rugged beauty, and wantonly massacred a number of families.

When word of the Nez Perce uprising reached Fort Lapwai in June, 1877, two calvary companies under a Capt. Perry were sent post haste to restore order. It was then that Chief Joseph took the field with his braves, probably 300 men, and routed the American forces in the battle of White Bird Canyon.

So severe was the defeat that a General Howard was dispatched with 600 men to take Chief Joseph and his band. After a two day battle, Gen. Howard managed to dislodge but not to defeat Joseph, and then began the phenomenal and masterful anabasis of Chief Joseph, as it used to be studied at West Point.

Masterly Retreat

For the Indian chief began a masterly retreat in which he continuously outfought and out-generaled his pursuers who outnumbered him more than two-to-one. Not only was the Indian outnumbered, but he was encumbered by the women and children and the old people of his tribe.

For 1300 incredible miles, over a terrain of inordinate mountain grandeur and equal difficulty, the Indians retreated toward Canada and freedom. In the end, they were barefoot, skeletal, starved and ragged. Sickness and death were constantly among them. But they fought and marched on.

It took fresh American troops, under Col. Nelson A. Miles, to cut off Joseph's retreat only fifty miles from the Canadian border and force his surrender.

If Hollywood knows drama, it won't let any script writer tamper with the words in which the chief surrendered:

"From where the sun now stands, I shall fiyht no more."

DOES HE WASH HIS OWN DISHES?

"WIMPY," PET OTTER of Nelson Smith, Alpena, Mich., from his high chair in the Smith kitchen grinningly approves the meal he has just polished off. Smith found "Wimpy" as a kitten and raised him on milk. The otter, now 10 months old, weighs almost 25 pounds. He romps in the bathtub and plays with youngsters. (International)

Declares Yo-Yo Craze Threatens To Come Back

SAN FRANCISCO. — (INS) — A fun craze which swept the country in 1932 is back again—and its taking firmer hold on young and old.

It's a game that's played with a little doo-hickey on the end of a piece of string and it's called a yo-yo.

The fad, which died a quick death when its first novelty wore off, is not confined to children—their elders are getting into the spirit.

In San Francisco, the yo-yo fever has taken the form of a rash of contests spurred on by manufacturers' offers of more yo-yo's, pennants and even trips to Canada.

"MURDER" SOLVED

TACOMA, Wash.—Deputy sheriffs George Nemec and Fred Grimm approached an abandoned house with caution after seeing two legs sticking out of a second-story window. "Looks like homicide," remarked Grimm. They went upstairs. The legs turned out to be artificial, apparently placed there by a prankster.

COURT POINTS A FINGER

Supporters of the UN, whistling to keep their morale up, were wont in the past to point to the International Court of Justice as one UN agency that had not succumbed to the cold war. Justices from Soviet nations did not mechanically vote against the West, like Soviet delegates to other agencies.

Now, however, even that consolation has been snatched away. In its latest decision the world court has split like other UN agencies—the West and the "neutrals" on one side, Russia and her satellites on the other.

Apparently this issue was too hot. It involved American and British attempts to invoke the peace treaties against Rumania, Hungary and Bulgaria. When the three former enemy nations refused to live up to the human rights provisions of the treaty, the United States and Britain invoked the enforcement provisions. But Russia refused to cooperate, and so did the three satellites. They contended that no "dispute" existed, but only an effort by America and Britain to interfere in their "internal affairs."

It is this contention that the court has now rejected, by a cold war vote of 11-3. A dispute does exist, says the court. It is the kind of dispute covered by treaty provisions, calling for consultation by Britain, Russia and the United States to agree on enforcement measures. If they fail to agree, the UN is to act.

This opinion of the court is purely advisory. It states the obligations of the various countries under the UN Charter. The United States and Britain agreed to abide by the decision. Russia and her satellites did not. Presumably they won't abide by it. But the court's decision points a finger of responsibility that no amount of Soviet propaganda can hide.

SAFETY IN GOOD MANNERS

While it may sound like a joke to some people, there's a great deal of truth in the statement made by a safety expert to a New York City audience the other day. It's not necessary to agree with him 100 per cent to realize that he is on the right track.

The statement, made by New York Commissioner of Motor Vehicles Clifford J. Fletcher, was that ill-mannered motorists are a greater menace than drunken drivers. It followed another statement to the effect that a majority of motor fatalities in New York state last year could be traced to "impatience, discourtesy and sheer recklessness."

There's no question that most accidents are the result of plain selfishness or thoughtlessness. The driver who is thinking of others will obey traffic regulations and rules of the road to prevent mishaps. And there wouldn't be many highway crashes if everybody showed a reasonable amount of consideration for everybody else.

The only thing wrong with the Fletcher statement is that it divides ill-mannered motorists and drunken drivers into two groups. They belong in the same category. Persons with good manners are thoughtful of others—and persons who keep other people in mind do not drink to excess and then get behind the wheel of a car.

If automobile drivers could learn to be reasonably courteous they would suddenly find that they could use the roads in reasonable safety. But how to make them see it? That's the problem.

THEY WEREN'T WILD ABOUT HARRY

By the unanimous vote of the jury trying him, Harry Bridges, west coast labor boss has been found guilty of perjury.

The jury believed he lied when he swore he was not a Communist when he became an American citizen. And now, if the verdict sticks, Harry Bridges will be a candidate for a penalty sentence or deportation, or both.

The jury convicting Bridges has done the American people a service. For years Bridges has been directing tactics that looked suspiciously like Communistic practices.

He was up for deportation some years ago and only the intervention of some starry eyed New Dealers saved him a ride back to Australia.

He has been ruthless in his treatment of the public in the strikes he has called, he has fomented trouble on the west coast among the dock and ship workers and all the time there was a grave suspicion that if he was not a Communist then he was a fellow traveler or followed the party line.

Now he stands before the world convicted of perjuring himself when he said he was not a Communist. The case was well prepared by the government, it was well prosecuted by the government's attorneys and the jury deliberated the testimony for five days. It seems to us that justice has been done.

Already he has raised the cry of "framed." He will take every advantage of American law to attempt to beat this conviction. He is entitled to every protection of the law, but it is to be hoped that the processes of law do not travel with leaden shoes.

The United States can get along nicely without Harry Bridges.

It has been quite a time since anything was heard of that brave, new world which was to banish want and fear, and in which we were all to live high on the hog on each other's taxes.

Re-Creating German General Staff

Re-creation of a German general staff—assuming that it ever actually was permitted to go out of existence—appears to be well under way in the Eastern Zone of Germany today.

In his address to the Pilgrim's society dinner in London, John J. McCloy, U. S. high commissioner for Germany, said that the Soviets are using outright "Nazi methods" to create a new German army under guise of a police force.

In Military Unit

At the same time, dispatches from Berlin revealed that East Germany and the Soviet satellite states are being meshed into a single military unit.

Obviously, this step is in answer to the "master plan" of western European defense adopted by the Atlantic Pact signatories at The Hague in Holland last Saturday.

But there are many signs that it is no mere propagandists move of retaliation but a definite military program in which German generals will have a place where they always believe they belong—in the topmost echelon of command.

Little is known of what the Soviets have done, if anything, in the line of denazification in their sector.

There probably have been a good number of summary executions among the ranks of unregenerate Nazis. But it is equally likely that the Russians have preserved and even coddled the military minds that could be of definite value in event of conflict.

It is an unquestioned fact that many top-rank Germans fled to the east when the Allied denazification program got under way.

These included not only generals, but doctors, lawyers and other professional men. They had been Nazi party members of the first rank and realized that even if they escaped heavy punishment they probably would not be permitted to continue their careers.

The Soviets welcomed them with open arms and are siphoning off their abilities to the fullest.

Uranium deposits are centered in Eastern Europe and so are some of the most advanced atomic energy research establishments constructed in the days of Adolf Hitler.

Rocket Weapon Station

There also is the vast rocket weapon station at Peenemuende on the Baltic where the destructive V-2 was developed before it was sent careening over on missions of destruction in London.

It is apparent that the men who worked on early development of such projects are better fitted to continue than any Soviet substitutes and this the Russians realize despite their frequent claims to every important scientific achievement throughout the last century.

Over and above the scientific aspects is the fact that the Russians have a healthy respect for German military genius.

So far as can be determined, the Soviet "defense" plan will utilize the forces of Poland, Czechoslovakia, Hungary, Romania and Bulgaria—along with those of Eastern Germany—operating under a joint general staff.

Orders from Moscow

There is no question that the Germans will quickly take their places at the top of this. While superior orders supposedly will come from Moscow, it does not take much imiganation to visualize energetic, ambitious and aggressive Germans sitting in conference on equal status with the Kremlin.

Some of the plans reported adopted already have a distinctly German tone.

The weapons of Russia, Germany and the satellites are to be coordinated and standardized.

"Elite detachments will be created to handle the most advanced and complicated weapons.

New military academies will be established in the eastern countries.

All political and military strategy will be integrated by coordination of the general staff with the cominform.

The present military developments in Eastern Europe come as no surprise, of course. They undoubtedly were envisaged by the Atlantic defense ministers at The Hague. Their "master plan" is clearly described as designed to render futile any Soviet attempt to transform the new military grouping into an instrument of aggression.

The Parent Problem

By Garry C. Myers, Ph. D.

PARENTAL CONFLICTS HURT YOUNG CHILD

Constantly in this column, over a number of years I have tried to call my readers' attention to the relationships between the father and mother as the foremost factor in the happiness of the child and his development as a person. I have maintained that strained relations between them is felt by the child however young he may be, even when he sees no outward conflicts; that on the contrary happy, companionable and truly affectionate relationship between these parents can't be hidden from the infant, child adolescent. I have tried to show how immeasurable are the heartaches which divorce and the causes leading to it impose on the helpless and innocent children; a total of about 300,000 of them a year. Often, too, I have dwelt on the tragedies to the child with his heart torn between the divorced parents, especially when he is assigned by the court part time to one parent and part time to the other.

Often in this column you have read my discussion of some problem of a child for the solution of which I urged the father and mother to work first on themselves and to cultivate a more appreciative, companionship and affection for each other. I know, of course, how difficult this sometimes can be. Yet I know as you know that effort in this direction is warranted by justice to the children.

Strained Relations

Now when father-mother conflicts or strained relations do arise, who is going to make the adjustments? Each spouse expects the other to do so. From a number of studies made, it appears that the wife is more often expected to make the adjustments and more often does so, though there are many exceptions.

When you look at the court records of divorce you observe "sex incompatibility" high in frequency among the grounds on which divorce was granted. But as I have often pointed out in this column, sex incompatibility, except for a very few cases for the medical expert, is merely a symptom and not the cause of the alleged difficulty. In recent months and years more and more marriage counselors, psychologists and psychiatrists are saying that sex incompatibility is a state of mind and emotions rather than a physical fact.

Air Their Doubts

Moreover, I have entreated newly-married persons not to air their doubts or disappointments concerning the spouse among friends and relatives but to consult a specialist, such as an expert marriage counselor.

All the foregoing points are just common sense, most of which have been refined and focused by various published researches and by the consensus of leading experts. These and other vital matters concerning marriage and divorce have been convincingly reinforced by that recent study by Dr. William J. Goode of Wayne University, Detroit, financed by the Saturday Evening Post and reported therein in a series of articles written by David G. Wittels. The study was based on expert interviews with 425 divorced women between 20 and 38 years of age, who have children. The last articles, on what divorce means to children especially interested me, as I know it also will interest you. Who is there to defend the child against the selfishness of one or both his parents who are divorced?

One Man's Opinion

(By International News Service)

The only question they left out of the census was "when did you see your last flying saucer?"

Russia will claim they had 'em anyway. With cups.

One fellow claims he even knows the message stencilled on the flying saucer. It says "if you can read this you're too darn close . . . to knowing a top military secret."

This is one of the best secrets we ever had. . . It is so secret it must be in the loyalty files.

But as the admiral remarked when they told him he couldn't make any more speeches "I can go along with a gag."

The only way we'll ever get Harry to say we have 'em is to get Taft to deny they exist.

I'm sure they're American although there was one report of one that resembled a samovar with a loose spiggot.

The first newsboys were employed in Scotland during the 17th century.

They Say

WASHINGTON— Secretary of State Acheson—"Our European friends . . have made encouraging progress toward economic recovery, but they still have a difficult task ahead . . "

WASHINGTON — Rep. Vinson, chairman of the House Armed Services Committee—"The atomic blitz of tomorrow is a real, a genuine possibility."

LONDON—U. S. High Commissioner for Germany John J. McCloy—"Today the west has an opportunity to unite for its own defense. Tomorrow it may be too late."

NEW YORK—Claude A. Putnam, President of the NAM—"We must dispel the illusion that big government means big benefits at little cost."

From Me To You

By MESEEALL

Try as we may . . . can't forget the nice balmy breezes that we enjoyed Tuesday . . . Everyone seems effected and the effect is lingering . . . serious thought goes away off and in its place comes the old question and answer urge . . . Answers to these brain warpers at bottom of column:

Suppose you were in a bathroom in which the cold water faucet of the bath tub is on in full force and capable of filling the tub in 5 minutes. The hot water is also on and capable of filling tha tub in 5 minutes. The drain is capable of emptying the tub in 3 minutes. Assuming that the room is waterproof, the door cannot be opened, windows have been taken out and sealed, and call for help cannot be heard, how can you keep from drowning?

Wasn't that easy . . . here's another: Three hunters stop overnight at a hotel on their way to the woods. They pay ten dollars apiece for a room and meals. Later the clerk discovered that he had overcharged the men five dollars. He sent the money back with a bellboy. The men each took one dollar out of the five and gave the boy a two-dollar tip . . . They had paid 30 dollars, ten per person. If each got a refund of one dollar, the bill was reduced to nine dollars apiece or a total of 27 dollars. Now, if you take the 27 and the 2 dollars given to the bellboy, you will have a total of 29 dollars. What happened to the other dollar?

If a dozen eggs sell for 26 cents (this must of been before the government took a hand) how many can be purchased for a cent and a quarter?

1st answer . . . Turn off the water.

2nd answer . . . The $27 already includes the $2 given to the boy, but not the $3 taken by the men. Hence, the $3 should have been added to the $27 instead. If you think who actually has the different shares of the $30, you will solve the trouble.

3rd answer . . . One dozen.

APRIL SHOWER

Washington Calling

(By Marquis Childs)

Propose New G.O.P. Organization

WASHINGTON, April 6.—Among liberal Republicans on capitol hill a statement of principles is being circulated that is intended to be the cornerstone of a new organization. As conceived by its sponsors, the new organization would be a rallying point for those who believe the only hope for the GOP is a positive, forward-looking program.

The sponsors hope that the new group can do for the Republicans what Americans for Democratic action has done for the Democratic party. It would be the focus for all Republican elements now distrustful of the dominant faction in the party that decided the issue in the coming election is "liberty versus socialism." It would also take in many Republicans eager to preserve a bipartisan or an unpartisan foreign policy and who are deeply disturbed by the tactics of the Taft-Wherry-Bridges leadership in the Senate.

Room For Such An Organization

Certainly, there is room for such an organization. Those of moderate views in the Republican party who feel that a negative, "back to normalcy" campaign cannot possibly win are increasingly conscious of being excluded, denied any voice in party councils.

But many obstacles also stand in the way. Whether the new organization ever gets born is still an open question.

First on the list of obstacles is money. The Republican National Committee is itself having a tough time raising funds. The Senate and House congressional campaign committees are competing for Republican generosity.

Still another group would be likely to find the pickings very slim. That, at any rate, is the fear of some who would like to see the new group formed, yet are fearful that it might tend more to divide than to unite the forces of Republicanism.

It is fear of splitting the party wide open that deters many who would like to join up. The declaration on civil rights, for example, is in striking contrast to the timid position taken by the party in its recent official policy statement. The declaration favors federal power to arrest and prosecute lynchers and a fair employment practices law with criminal penalties for violators.

Favors Proposals

On health insurance the declaration favors the proposal of Senator Irving Ives and Representative Jacob Javits of New York. The Ives-Javits plan calls for federal aid to co-operative health insurance units formed under federal-state supervision. The charge to individuals for prepaid medical care would be based on the individual's income. With very little fanfare this proposal has gained considerable headway among both Republicans and Democrats in Congress.

In seeking a name for the new organization the sponsors ran into a lot of argument. Republicans for progressive action was one of the proposed names most hotly debated. But progressive is a word with unhappy connotations coming out of the Henry Wallace party.

In their convention held here over the week end ADA, after a struggle within the executive board decided to strike out any reference to support for the fair deal in ADA's policy statement. That was done on the insistence of a minority in the organization that has held from the beginning that ADA should not be linked to either of the parties.

Support Given Democrats

The fact is, of course, that ADA's support has been given almost exclusively to Democratic candidates. Its success has brought angry denunciation from chairman Guy George Gabrielson and others of the GOP high brass.

ADA has always taken a strongly anti-Communist line. The organization has vigorously supported the major measures of administration foreign policy intended to unite and strengthen the free world.

In view of this fact it is astonishing to learn that in some communities a campaign of coercion and intimidation has been directed against ADA so that those who wish to join it must do so in secret. That, if it is actually true, is anti-American, anti-democratic, anti-everything that the American free system stands for.

A BOY'S HAIR

Once there was a little lad
Who wished no hair at all
he had.
Down for breakfast every day,
"Back and comb your hair!"
they'd say.
"Wet that cowlick down a bit!
Get a proper part in it."

Saturday, the holiday
Little boys can spend in play,
He was told: "Today, you know,
To the barber shop you go."
Sheet around him in the chair;
Spent the sunniest mornings
there.

One vacation mother said:
'He has such a tousled head.
For the summer it would be Easier if clipped were he."
So he played until the fall
Hairless as a billiard ball.

Once he wished he had no hair,
Combing it was so much care.
Fat and nearly sixty now,
Bald, and with a glistening brow
Hairless as a china dish,
Time has granted him his wish.

GET AND KEEP POWER

A "peoples democracy", among other things, is a country where private citizens are forbidden to keep even an air rifle.

Czechoslovakia currently is witnessing an expansion of the term used behind the Iron Curtain to define Red totalitarianism. In the wake of wholesale arrests, police are confiscating firearms belonging to private citizens.

Press dispatches say that even Communists are required to surrender pistols and hunting weapons, and non-Communists have to give up air rifles. Not satisfied with its despotic power over the lives and liberty of its subjects, the puppet regime in Prague is taking no chances on a popular uprising.

If King George III had thought of that the United Sttaes might still be a British colony. The "embattled farmers" at Concord and Lexington would have had no rifles with which to fire the "shot heard 'round the world". But it is necessary to go a long way back in history to find a counterpart for the ruthless disregard of human rights shown by the twentieth century apostles of Marx and Lenin.

The chances of successful revolution in any country where a Soviet-type police state has been firmly established are pretty slim. Czechoslovakia's masters have the military might of Russia behind them.

Nevertheless, the happiness in once free and prosperous Czechovakia make an interesting contribution to the propaganda war. They leave no doubt that force and terrorism alone keep the Reds in power.—Houston Chronicle.

English Sportsmanship

(By HENRY McLEMORE)

LONDON, England, April 6.—That the sportsmanship of English spectators is something very special has been accepted as a fact for so long that it would brand a fellow as a heretic to question it.

Well, here I go asking to be lassoed and a big H seared on my flanks.

No Different From Other Breeds

My conviction is that English sportsmanship isn't at all different from that of the other civilized breeds which walk this earth, and that the world thinks it is only because of one of the finest propaganda campaigns of all time.

I don't have at my fingertips all the words of praise, spoken and written, concerning the skyscraper qualities of English sportsmanship—only half of them, in fact—but I would wager that nine-tenths of them were spoken and written by natives of the Tight Little Isle themselves.

Englishmen may be given to understatement, but not when it comes to the subject of how their athletes play for the fun of it and not to win, and how the spectators are just as happy to see a Zulu chieftain win the 220 low hurdles as they are to see a victory by a home-grown product from Leighton Buzzard.

Are Determined To Win

During the past few weeks I have had several opportunities to watch John Bull's athletes and spectators at work, and they are every bit as determined to win and equally as naughty when things are going bad for them as Americans, Canadians, Chileans, or Hollanders.

A fine example of this came a while back at a meeting of the international hockey teams of the U. S. and Great Britain. This was a Pier 6 brawl if I ever laid my eyes on one, with fists and sticks flying all over the ice. Granted, the Americans were in there punching, but so were the Englishmen. I failed to see any English players turning first one cheek and then the other, or saying, "Well punched, ol' chap," when a fist caught them on the whiskers. On the contrary, they fought back much better than half the heavyweight champions they have sent over to fight in Madison Square Garden.

Lavish Throwing Of Green Goods

And as for the spectators, well, not since the Detroit baseball fans showered Ducky Medwick of the Cardinals with half a carload of citrus fruit in the 1934 World Series have I seen such a lavish throwing of oranges, grapefruit, lemons, and other greengrocers' products. The game was held up for fifteen minutes and, 'pon my soul, 'twas the English players who were chased to the penalty box for roughness.

In Glasgow, where I was privileged to watch the cup battle between the rugby 15's of Scotland and England, I saw as many knees thrown in faces, as many elbows jammed into necks and ears, and as much all-around roughness as I ever saw in an American football game.

At the Grand National at Liverpool I did not notice any of the riders, including a lord or two, do anything but ride hell for leather, and do their best no matter what happened to their fellows, to get over the jumps ahead.

I am not criticizing the English, mind you. I am just expressing the opinion that the superiority of English sportsmanship is just a mighty myth.

Looking At Life

By ERICH BRANDEIS

Whenever a friend whom I have not seen for a long while says to me "Gee, you look fine, not a day older than you did three years ago,"—that's when I get suspicious.

If I really don't look any older than I did three years ago, why should he bring it up at all?

Why should he think of aging in connection with me unless I look so much older that the change slaps him right in the face?

Sometimes it seems to me that flattery is really nothing but insult in reverse.

We all like flattery, of course—and don't say YOU don't.

We know we are getting older, but we hate to let the world know that we are.

Then someone comes along and flatters us by telling us how young we look.

Either the fatterer wants to hide his real thoughts, namely that he is really shocked by the way we look, or he notices our anxiety and wants to appease us.

Just a few days ago another friend looked at my necktie.

"What a gorgeous tie!" he exclaimed.

Instinctively I asked, "What's the matter with it?"

He laughed and replied, "Oh, you don't like it either."

I hadn't wanted to wear the darn thing.

It fitted somewhat the description of President Truman's sports shirt that he wore in Key West—things all over it.

But I had a date with a fellow who had given it to me for Christmas, and so I thought I should wear it at least that once.

If you really look young, if you are really well dressed, people take it for granted. They don't say anything about it.

If you are young and look young, that's natural.

If you always dress well that too is taken as a matter of fact.

So, beware the flatterer.

By lying to you, he is really telling you the truth.

"It's like looking in the mirror. You are there, all right. But your right hand is your left—it's truth in reverse.

A reader tells me that she objects to being called old although she is past seventy.

"In my opinion," she writes, "old age is not a matter of years or of white hair or wrinkles.

"You are not old until you stop looking forward and live in the past.

"When yesterday's memories are more important than tomorrow's hopes and anticipations—then you are old.

"I shall be young until my very last minute on this earth.

"And even when I know it's my last minute, I shall look forward to what's ahead."

If Ponce de Leon had felt that way he could have saved himself that trip to Florida.

Folks Of Fame

Billie Dove was another movie star of the silent days. Born in New York City, she took a secretarial course and posed for magazine covers before she went on the stage. She was with Ziegfeld Follies, and began picture making in 1922. Marriage Clause, Love Mart, Adoration, Yellow Lily, Night Watch, Man and the Moment, Careers, Her Private Life, The Broadway Hostess, The Other Tomorrow, A Notorious Affair, One Adventurous Night, were some of her pictures.

Roman Nose, Indian Chief, was a brave and gallant warrior—a magnificent physical specimen of Indian manhood, and chief of the Cheyennes. Steel rails were being laid across Kansas — hunting ground of the Red Men. Colonists were arriving — threatening to drive out the Indians. He came to the United States army post with other Indians to protest. "We will not have the wagons which make a noise (steam engines) in the hunting grounds of the buffalo. If the palefaces come farther into our land, there will be scalps of your brethren in the wigwams of the Cheyennes. I have spoken," he said. The rails continued to be laid, the settlers pushed into the precincts of the Indians. The Red Men fought the gangs of workmen laying the rails, slaughtered men, women and children, burned and sacked houses, attacked stage coaches and wagon trains from June to December, 1868. A small body of scouts (50 men) was organized to fight them. Although greatly outnumbered, from a small island in the river, where the scouts had entrenched themselves, they finally overcame the Indians and killed their chief.

General Assistance Grants Are Reduced

HARRISBURG, April 6.—(INS)—Reductions in general assistance grants ordered by the State Relief Board have eliminated six services to indigents, the Department of Public Assistance reported today.

Secretary Frank A. Robbins said the curb on services is included in the March 14 economy order effective this month and designed to save $11,700,000 during the remaining 13 months of the 1949-51 biennium.

Eliminated by the order, Robbins said, are provisions for special diets, special clothing allowances, payment for ambulance service deposits paid for connecting service utilities and grants for temporary housekeeping fees and laundry service.

The March 14 order, Robbins said, is meeting with opposition from private welfare agencies as well as individual relief recipients.

The restrictions on services affect about 24,000 indigents, according to the DPA.

Marvin Company Has Low Electrical Bid

The first kindergarten was opened in 1840 in Blakenburg, Germany.

Man Is Acquitted Of Murder Charge

PITTSBURGH, April 6—(INS)—William Adkins, a 39-year-old Franklin, O., welder was free today of murder charges in connection with the fatal stabbing of 31-year-old Herbert Gilmore, a nearby Clairton steelworker.

A jury of ten women and two men returned a not guilty verdict after two and a half hours of deliberations last night.

Adkins had been charged with fatally stabbing Gilmore last Feb. 1 during a fight in a Clairton lunch room. Defense Attorney Ruggero J. Aldisert in his summation had asked for acquittal on the grounds the stabbing was in self-defense.

Adkins told the jury he acted in self-defense after Gilmore and a younger bother, Edward, beat and kicked him in the lunch room. He said he feared they were going to kill him, and drew a boy scout knife.

Gilmore died from 16 stab wounds in the chest, back and face.

Church Groups Give Home Residents Treat And Easter Program

The 210 residents of the Lawrence County Home enjoyed immensely the Easter program and treat given under the auspices of the New Castle Ministerial Association with Chaplain F. P. Sulmonetti in charge.

Hymn, "What a Friend We Have In Jesus", opened the program sung by the congregation and then in Italian by Mr. Sulmonetti. The Lord's prayer was said by all. Ethna Sulmonetti favored with vocal selections "Above the Hills" and "Prise Ye the Lord", with Mrs. Sulmonetti at the piano.

"There Is a Fountain" and "Last Mile of the Way" were played as duets on the accordion by Miss Rose Ponziano and on the mouth organ by her mother, Mrs. Grace Ponziano. Miss Irene Glennan and Miss Rose Ponziano favored with two vocal duets, "Ivory Palaces" and "Beyond the Sunset", with Mrs. Sulmonetti accompanist. These were guests from Lowellville, O.

Rev. Sulmonetti and Ethna Sulmonetti sang as a duet "Jesus Can Satisfy".

From the Pearson Street Christian Missionary Alliance a trio, composed of Mrs. A. Rigby, Mrs. C. Robinson and Mrs. R. Hanna, sang "God Was There" and "They Shall Shine As the Stars", and Mrs. C. McIlwraith, soloist sang "The Love of God" and "I Am Amazed", with her daughter Buenavista McIlwraith, as accompanist.

Chaplain Sulmonetti introduced the speaker of the evening, Rev. A. E. Simon, pastor of St. John's Lutheran church, who gave an inspiring Easter message on "Behold Thy Son, Behold Thy Mother". The Happy chorus was sung by all and the benediction was pronounced by Rev. Simon.

Mrs. O. Bolinger, superintendent of the home, made fitting remarks and expressed her gratefulness for the program and treats given to all the residents including the kindness shown to the inmates of the hospital.

Serving the residents of the home was the committee of ladies —Mrs. D. Nesbit, Mrs. A. W. Hanna, Mrs. J. MacKenzie, Mrs. K. Lutz, Mrs. J. McKee, Mrs. J. Simons and Mrs. F. P. Sulmonetti. Ice cream, cake, cookies, candy and an Easter remembrance were given to each one in the home.

Mrs. A. Pezzuti and Mrs. G. Ponziano of Lowellville, O., furnished the Italian home made cookies. During the serving of the refreshments, accordion music, piano music and a good hymn sing was immensely enjoyed.

Government Owns 90 Million Pounds Of Surplus Butter

WASHINGTON, April 6.—(INS)—The Agriculture department says it bought six and a half million pounds of butter last month under price support operations.

That brings the total of government-held surplus butter up to about 90,000,000 pounds, compared with federal stocks of 9,000,000 pounds a year ago.

Government buying under price support commitments to hold up the egg market came to 10,000,000 pounds of powdered eggs in March. The government now has about 19,000,000 pounds of butter bought the first three months of this year alone.

ization sparked by liberal Republicans come into being. Such competition within the framework of the two-party system is healthy and desirable. ADA has not transformed the Democratic party. It is regarded by many southern Democrats with the same suspicion and resentment that conservative Republicans cherish for it.

But it has produced an antidote to the smugness and complacency that invariably work to let things be as they are. It has helped to show the way to reasonable change in a swiftly changing world.

Try And Stop Me

By BENNETT CERF

Publisher Frank Sheed writes a story about Arnold Lunn, England's arch-enemy of Communism, and such a persuasive orator that it has become increasingly difficult to find opponents brash enough to stand up to him. Lunn finally was reduced to descending upon an open meeting of the Communists, posing as a member, and demanding loudly, "Why is everybody running away from that man Lunn? It gives Marxism a black eye. I demand that something be done about it!"

The chairman assured him, "The matter is in hand. Something will be done about it immediately." "High time," yelled the intruder, as he made for the exit, "because I'm Lunn, and I need some opponents!"

A visitor to the studio of Picasso found the great painter staring dejectedly at his latest creation, and muttering, "It's a failure." "How can you say such a thing?" protested the visitor. "I think it's one of your masterpieces." "No," said Picasso, "the nose is wrong. It throws the whole picture out of perspective." "Well, then, why don't you fix the nose?" asked the visitor. "That's not possible," said Picasso. "I can't find it."

YONKERS, N. Y., April 6—(INS)—The South Yonkers Merchants association has adopted a program designed to win customers by keeping them out of traffic court.

Over 6,000 Civilian Military Employes Dropped In February

WASHINGTON, April 6.—(INS)—The Byrd Economy committee says that Defense Secretary Johnson pushed his retrenchment program in February by dropping 6,102 civilian employees.

But other agencies, the committee said, nearly offset the military department's economies by adding a total of 6,009.

The joint congressional committee headed by Sen. Byrd (D) Va., reported the federal civilian payroll for February carried 1,951,968 names, a decrease of 93 from January.

Largest personnel increase was 2,827 added by the treasury, mostly in preparation for the March 15 income tax rush.

FALSE TEETH
That Loosen Need Not Embarrass

Many wearers of false teeth have suffered real embarrassment because their plate dropped, slipped or wobbled at just the wrong time. Do not live in fear of this happening to you. Just sprinkle a little FASTEETH, the alkaline (non-acid) powder, on your plates. Holds false teeth more firmly, so they feel more comfortable. Does not sour. Checks "plate odor" (denture breath). Get FASTEETH at any drug store.

U.S. May Offer Aid To Iran

By JOHN A. REICHMANN
(I. N. S. Staff Correspondent)

WASHINGTON, April 6.—(INS)—The United States reportedly is studying a program of aid for Iran, strategically located cold war battleground in the Middle East.

Iranian Ambassador Hussein Ala will soon leave for his homeland, where, according to reports, he will become foreign minister.

Ala is expected to take back with him a specific promise of U. S. aid, particularly in connection with the point four program of aid to underdeveloped nations. Iran is in need of capital to develop its natural resources and to develop its agriculture.

Ala is perhaps best known for the strenuous fight he put up in the United Nations to save the integrity of his country when it was threatened by Communists after World War II.

The problems of his nation were exhaustively discussed last fall when the Shah of Iran visited the U. S. The young monarch stressed then the serious needs of his country for health and education improvements.

The Shah, regarded as particularly enlightened, gives a major share of the royalties from oil concessions in the country to public improvements.

He wants, in addition to general aid, to develop highways throughout the land which will make farms more accessible to the cities.

A share of last year's military aid program also is being sent into Iran but officials decline to discuss its nature or extent.

The chief trouble at present is said to be an economic crisis, including widespread inflation, which is creating political difficulties.

British Labor Party Candidate Is Winner

LONDON, April 6.—(INS)—The overall majority of the British Labor party in parliament was increased to four today by a victory in a by-election in Sheffield.

The winner of the election was Sir Frank Seskice who polled 22,080 votes to 8,365 for Conservative-Liberal candidate J. P. Hunt.

HE IS RISEN—EASTER LESSON

THE POWER OF CHRIST'S RESURRECTION

Scripture—I Corinth ians 15; Luke 24:1-12.

The holy women at the tomb of Christ.

"Thanks be to God, who giveth us the victory through our Lord Jesus Christ."—I Corinthians 15:57.

By NEWMAN CAMPBELL

This spring when we celebrate the Risen Lord, the birds will be singing, the flowers will be nearing bloom and the whole earth will be renewed after the long winter.

We take these natural events for granted, but nevertheless we are glad and our hearts sing at the coming of the fruitful season. All over the world people will feel the same lift to their spirits, and they will give thanks, and hail the Risen Saviour in their churches and homes, and in the great out-of-doors.

"Christ has risen," they will say; "we too shall rise." In some countries it is the custom to greet each other with the phrase, "He is risen," to which the friend responds, "He is risen indeed!"

Now we retell the great, sweet story of the first Easter Day: To the garden of Joseph of Arimathaea, where the tomb of Christ was located, the women who had been friends of Jesus and His Apostles went—on the first day of the week—to anoint His body with spices, which they had prepared, as was the custom.

"And they found the stone rolled away from the sepulchre. And they entered in, and found not the body of the Lord Jesus."

Perplexed, they turned about, and saw two men who stood by them in shining garments, who said to them: "Why seek ye the living among the dead?"

Frightened, the women prostrated themselves before the two shining beings, and the men spoke again: "He is not here, but is risen: remember how He spake unto you when He was yet in Galilee, saying, The Son of Man must be delivered into the hands of sinful men, and be crucified, and the third day rise again?"

Then they remembered His words. All the apostles had heard Him say this, but none had believed.

Hastily the women went away and told all this to the 11 remaining apostles, and to all the rest. But these people—who had heard Christ's words and lived so close to Him still did not believe this thing they were being told. "Idle tales," they thought them.

However, Peter rose up and ran to the sepulchre. He stooped down, saw the linen clothes laid by themselves, and he went away, "wondering in himself at that which has come to pass."

Christ is risen from the dead! In spite of the terror that holds so many in its grip in these days of discords, wars and rumors of wars, we can pause and rest on this: that Christ rose from the dead, and so may we too—if we believe in Him.

In chapter 15 of Paul's longest letter—written to the Corinthians, he affirms Christ's resurrection:

"For I delivered unto you first of all that which I also received, how that Christ died for our sins according to the scriptures; And that He was buried, and that He rose again the third day according to the scriptures: And that He was seen of Cephas, then of the 12: After that He was seen of above 500 brethren at once; of whom the greater part remain unto this present, but some are fallen asleep."

Some of the younger disciples were still alive and had seen the risen Lord, Paul says, although we do not know just where or how this appearance to 500 occurred.

"And last of all He was seen of me," Paul wrote. That was when Jesus appeared to Paul when he was journeying to Damascas to persecute and take back bound to Jerusalem Christians in that city.

"If in this life only we have hope in Christ, we are of all men most miserable," Paul wrote. "But now is Christ risen from the dead, and become the first fruits of them that slept. For since by man came death, by man came also the resurrection of the dead. For as in Adam all die, even so in Christ shall all be made alive."

NO TOTEM POLES

MATEO, N. C.—Secretary I. P. Davis of the Roanoke Island Historical Association is used to peculiar requests, but one for a totem pole stumped him. Davis explained that the Indians who inhabited the New World coast during the days of the "Lost Colony" were not totem pole builders.

Aluminum was discovered as a separate metal in 1824.

City Hall

Clean-Up Drive Starts April 17

Daily Schedule To Be Announced

Richard I. Davis, director in charge of city health, today stated that local residents have more than a week to gather tin cans and have them hauled away, free of charge, in city trucks, April 17. He said that the trucks will not haul away rubbish or ashes. A schedule of how trucks will operate will be announced later.

"With more than a week remaining, townspeople have time to collect tin cans which they should place in a receptacle. The receptacle should be placed near the garbage can. Garbage truck employes will collect the tin cans as rapidly as possible."

In some former years tin cans in receptacles were placed between the sidewalk and the curb. However, this method proved wrong, because the tins cans, if not collected the same day as placed there, were some times scattered about the street.

Providing good weather exists next week many residents will welcome a chance to work in their yards, cleaning away debris which has accumulated during the winter months. Mr. Davis said that rubbish and ashes must be removed at the expense of the property occupant.

During March month, the municipal sewer bureau was kept busy alleviating sewer conditions. According to E. Gene Schweinsberg, who has jurisdiction over the bureau, 206 complaints were investigated, and alleviated.

Purchasing Agent Joseph F. Medure has ordered large cigarette urns for several city hall corridors. They are expected to be delivered in the near future.

Commencing soon an inspection will be made every three weeks of retail business places, uptown, Long avenue and the Seventh ward, for fire hazards, according to Safety Director Richard I. Davis.

Streets Director E. Gene Schweinsberg stated today he is experiencing difficulty obtaining sufficient ashes to place on dirt roads which need repair.

Men have been engaged by the city to put Cascade Park in condition for summer outings. Several of them already are at work. However, the full crew will not report until April 15, according to Parks Director Joseph F. Medure.

Carl Gaston who was employed as a policeman at Cascade Park last spring and summer, has been re-employed for night duty during spring months and the picnic season this year. His appointment was recommended by Parks Director Joseph F. Medure. Frank N. Smith who has been night policeman, has been placed on daylight duty.

Owen Fox, city parks caretaker is putting various city parks in condition and has had signs placed warning the public to keep off the grass. A good catch of grass has resulted around the new city building.

City council has asked for bids for the blacktopping of the driveway and parking area at the new city building. A contracting firm will also repave a portion of Cochran Way, in the rear of the city building, which was damaged during the building of the new edifice.

City Assessor George Patterson has completed making assesments on new property for the year 1950.

Equipment for the new three-way radio is expected to arrive here soon, according to Wayne Sines who has been engaged by General Electric, who has the contract, to install the system.

Commendation Is Given Committee

A letter of commendation was received by the committee composed of Robert Strickler, L. Butler Hennon and Worrell M. Jones, from Dr. Ivan M. Gould, general secretary of the Pennsylvania State Sabbath School Association, for their good work in securing individual subscriptions.

The contributions received from county associations amount to only 30 per cut of the state association budget. This requires a large number of individual subscriptions from over the state to help make up the difference. The largest county pledge is from York county which is $1150. Lawrence county pledges $500.

The Lawrence county committee is going to continue receiving subscriptions throughout the year.

Study Plans To Aid Chinese

Relief To Starving Chinese Considered

WASHINGTON, April 6—(INS)—Secretary of State Acheson said that plans are under study to send American wheat and rice to the famine-stricken areas of Communist-held China.

Acheson said that Sen. Knowland (R) Calif., had sent him a letter recommending the steps which he has under consideration. Acheson said he has talked with Knowland and the House Foreign Affairs Committee about the proposal.

The secretary told a news conference that there are a number of questions that will have to be taken into consideration. These include establishing a policy by the government, whether the relief should be sent by a private organization and whether the government should help in that situation.

Other questions, he said, involve the attitude of the Communist authorities such as whether they would be willing to accept the relief and allow Americans to oversee its distribution.

Asked about reports that food from Manchuria is being shipped to Siberia, Acheson replied that conflicting information is reaching the State Department.

He said there is a report of the movement of food to Siberia but also other reports to the effect that some wheat from the northern provinces is being sent southward to the famine areas.

28th Division Plans Memorial Day Service

HARRISBURG — Boals burg, Centre county, will again be the setting for special Memorial Day services for the 28th Division of Pennsylvania on Sunday, May 21 at 1:30 p. m., according to the State Department of Commerce vacation and recreation bureau.

Veterans of the 28th Division from both wars and many states will gather at the Division shrine which will be the focal point of the services.

State Is Leader In Processed Pea Crop

HARRISBURG, April 6—During the past 10 years the acreage and the yield per acre of green peas for processing have nearly doubled and the state has taken a position of importance in the canning and freezing of this crop, the State Department of Agriculture reports.

In 1939 farmers of Pennsylvania in the vicinity of canning plants devoted 5,900 acres to growing peas or processing, federal-state records reveal. The yield per acre that year was only 1,150 pounds on a shelled basis. Last year the acreage was 12,000 and the yield per acre was 2,100 of shelled peas.

During the war this phase of Pennsylvania agriculture went all-out with a wartime high of 17,500 acres. A record of 18,200 acres was reached in 1946 when the average yield of 3,040 pounds per acre was the highest for any state in the nation. National yield honors came to Pennsylvania again in 1948 with 2,650 pounds per acre.

West Side Pupils Have Easter Event

Easter was moved forward a few days at the West Side school this morning in order that the youngsters could present their annual Easter program under the supervision of Miss Margaretta Hess and Miss Belle Kyle. The program presented at 11 a. m. was witnessed by both the children of the school and the parents who were in attendance.

Adding to the effectiveness of the well presented program was the 45 voice robed choir led by Miss Hess. The boys and girls created programs and invitations. The playlet "Here Comes Peter Cottontail" was participated in by: William Schweikert, Marion Becker, Joe Zuzow, Clyde Hennon, Becky Eakin, Shiela McHenry and Caryll Tucker.

The story of the empty tomb was presented by the choir with Theodore Jackson as reader. A quartet composed of Ina Nelson, Robert Nelson, Romona McHenry and Loretta McHenry sang "Christ Arose" with Peggy Whiteford, as soloist. Forming an appropriate background, the school was decorated with Easter pictures made by the youngsters.

CREAMO ONLY MARGARINE WITH CREAM

5 to 1 choose Creamo in Taste-Test

A check of margarine brands confirms the report that only one margarine is made with cream. That margarine is Creamo. Margarine industry sales figures reveal Creamo Margarine's popularity has grown more rapidly than the average of all other brands combined since Creamo was made available for national distribution.

In tests against the most expensive type bread-spreads, school children chose Creamo Margarine 5 to 1. Tests like this prove Creamo's made-with-cream flavor is superior on bread and more delicious for frying, baking and seasoning other foods.

Users say Creamo's extra flavor goes farther, too.

As a prize for his efforts in painting Chinese figurines, Richard was presented with two large Chinese lamps as a gift from Mr. Ayers. For having the most entries, 23 in all, Sally Wingfield was presented a set of paints. A special prize for her Amish pair was given to Diana Kleckner. Marshall Plan Marks Second Anniversary

By WILLIAM KERWIN
(I. N. S. Staff Correspondent)

WASHINGTON, April 6.—More than two billion dollars have been spent for Marshall Plan food and the investment apparently is paying off.

The Economic Cooperation Administration, reporting this Tuesday, said ECA-financed food supplies are giving Europeans a "sustaining" diet—long on quantity but slightly short on quality."

"Besides increasing the general health of the European population," the agency declared, "the American aid has resulted in greatly improved morals, particularly among workers."

Some Benefits

At the same time, ECA said in other reports marking its second anniversary that:

1. Iceland is "well on the road toward readjustment" of economic dislocations as she enters the final two years of the recovery program.

2. The Marshall Plan countries are plowing back four million dollars a day into their own economies to spur economic stability.

On the second point, ECA explained that the money represents "counterpart funds" — currency earned when a recovery item is "re-sold" by a receiving nation to the individual consumer.

As of last January 31, ECA and the European countries had agreed on the release of almost three billion dollars worth of these funds. ECA estimated that about 15 per cent of the average European diet is made up of food supplies through the Marshall Plan. It said:

"The proportion varies greatly from one country to another. Denmark on the one hand requires virtually no ECA-financed food imports largely because its own food production is now adequate for most of its needs.

"At the other extreme is Austria where ECA-financed food shipments amount to 38 per cent of its food supplies."

In appraising the make-up of the European diet, the agency said that food consumption averages about 2,800 calories as compared with 3,300 in the United States.

However, the diet in Europe consists mainly of low-cost starchy foods such as bread and potatoes and consumption of meats, fats and sugar is still below prewar.

In 940 A. D., in Egypt, the 700,000 volumes of the priceless antique library of Alexandria were burned by order of Caliph Omar. For six months they were used as fuel to warm the public baths.

Today's Fashion Flash

By PHYLLIS BATTELLE

NEW YORK, April 6.—(INS)—Because a lush-label Paris designer had an inspiration over a demitasse, ladies will be style-soaked in strong coffee colors next fall.

Mons. Pierre Balmain, backed by other big-name designers and textile manufacturers, predicted today that brown-black will replace black ensembles for autumn high fashion.

"The shade," he said, "is not really a brown. It's a colored black. It's much more vibrant under artificial lights than black-black. With it, a lady will wear sharp black accessories."

He added that it will be a much more fashionable color than cocoa-brown ever was: "It makes cocoa look sissified."

Guilty Verdict Is Demanded Against Erie Youths On Trial

BUFFALO, N. Y., April 6.—(INS)—District Attorney Gordon Steele, demanded a guilty verdict against two Erie, Pa., youths, accused of the felony murder of Ben H. Swan, Buffalo portrait photographer.

"I ask for a verdict of guilty—period," he told a jury of four women and eight men in the first degree murder case against Robert Leslie Pohl, 18, and his companion, Charles Nelis Ploss, 20.

The jury, under New York state law, can acquit or convict either or both. A conviction, unless the jury recommends life imprisonment, makes the electric chair mandatory. Life imprisonment is the only leniency that can be shown in the present type of a felony murder of which the youths are accused.

Defense counsel for Ploss urged that a recommendation be returned that would spare him the chair, while Pohl's lawyer asked for acquittal.

The photographer was shot to death when he interrupted a burglary last January 15th. in his suburban Tonawanda home.

Bette Davis Divorce Will Be Contested

HOLLYWOOD, April 6.—(INS)—William Grant Sherry, artist and former pugilist, said today he will fight a divorce action contemplated by his wife, Actress Bette Davis.

Bette ordered the divorce action as the aftermath of a brawl at RKO studios last Monday when Sherry reportedly tried to "crash" a "no husbands-or wives" party given for members of the cast of her latest picture, entitled "The Story of a Divorce."

Sherry declared he "still" loves his wife and will contest the divorce because "it is very unfair."

Games and chatting were the pleasant pastimes of the evening. Prizes were won by Mrs. Allen Cartwright Sr., and Mrs. Ivy Fletcher. Special guests were Mrs. John Mehalic and Mrs. William Badger.

Dainty refreshments were served later by the hostess, aided by Mrs. Mehalic. On April 19, the club will meet at the home of Mrs. Charles B. Morgan, Cunningham avenue. Mrs. Ivy Fletcher will be hostess for the occasion.

THE FAMILY SCRAPBOOK

By DR. ERNEST G. OSBORNE

LIVING ONE'S OWN LIFE

Most of us are deeply interested in our children and what they do. That is as it should be. At times, though, we carry a good thing too far.

If every time he comes home from school we query our young hopeful about his activities of the day, he is likely to rebel after awhile. If, when our daughters start to date, we ask for all the details, no because we don't trust them, but because we want to have an indirect part in their fun, they will, or should object. And if we are hurt should children not report every detail in letters when they are away from home, we need to stop and ask ourselves, "How come?"

Children, if they are to grow to a sturdy independence, need to lead lives of their own. We will appreciate hearing about their interests and activities, of course, but we shouldn't insist on it.

It is significant to note that it is usually parents who have few interests of their own who try to live through their children. If we have exciting things to talk about, there's much more chance that our youngsters will find they enjoy talking with us and much more chance that they will share what they have been doing and thinking.

CENSUS MAN AT LIBERTY—FINDS LADY WON'T TALK

ALTHOUGH MISS LIBERTY always waves hello and goodbye to everyone that passes, an ambitious census-taker (left) is stumped for an answer from the old girl as he visits Bedloes Island in New York Harbor. Government employees (right), who reside on the Island, are much more cooperative. Here, Mr. and Mrs. Walter Gorman and daughter, Ethel, supply Mr. Census-Taker with the information. (International)

SERVING DINNER

"Do I serve my guests correctly? Food from the left. Beverages and and silver from the right. Desserts from the left. Remove the dishes from the left also. I have reference to my maid's serving."

Answer: Not entirely! All food should be served from the left so that guests may help themselves from the serving dish using the right hand without awkwardness.

Dessert, even that not requiring the guests to help themselves from a serving dish, should be served from the left. All used dishes are removed from the right. And goblets, being at the guests' right side are filled from the right. Butter at the guests' left is replenished from the left.

Silver is placed thus on the table when it is set—before the guests are seated.

It should be arranged in the order of its use, working from the outside in toward the plate. All spoons and knives are placed at the right of the plate. All forks at the left with the possible exception of the oyster fork which may be placed at the extreme of plate, so that it may be the first piece of silver on the right.

Three pieces on each side is the maximum for flat silver. Additional silver, for dessert for instance, may be brought in with the course and placed either from the right or the left—depending upon whether it is a spoon or fork and knife, which should be placed on the proper side from the proper side.

Question: I am to be Godmother for a baby. If I should buy the entire Christening outfit, must I also buy a gift?

Answer: If you buy the baby its Christening outfit, you will be doing more than your share and any additional gifts will be unnecessary.

Auto Property Damage $10,555

One Killed, Eighteen Hurt In March

Nine thousand five hundred and sixty six miles were patroled by state police on 398 trips during March month, according to a report of their activities last month. Twenty accidents were investigated, in which one person was killed and 16 hurt, an increase of eight injured compared with March of 1949. Property damage amounted to $10,555.

Cause of the accidents were: first, failure to drive on the right side of the road; second, speed, or too fast for conditions, and third, improper passing.

The accidents occurred as follows: seven on Route 422, four on Route 18 and three on Route 19. The others occurred on other county roads.

Records show most accidents occurred between 5 p. m. and 7 p. m.

One hundred persons were arrested for motor violations and 59 requests were received for assistance. Thirty nine other investigations were made.

Blame Boy For Big Fire

WILMINGTON, Del., April 6.—(INS)—The blame for a million dollar fire which burned out a Wilmington neighborhood leaving 16 families homeless was attributed today to an eight-year-old boy.

Detectives announced the child confessed he accidentally started the Sunday blaze which swept two city blocks including six business establishments and a lumber yard. One woman suffered a fatal heart attack.

The boy had poured coal oil on the broom and lighted it with matches to make a torch similar to one he had seen in a cowboy and Indian movie, police said. However, it flared up so quickly that he became frightened and threw it in a haystack.

Detectives, who withheld the boy's identity, held him for family court, but it is not considered likely that any charge will be brought against him since criminal intent was lacking.

Warn Miners On Production

POTTSVILLE, Pa., April 6.—(INS)—Officials of the United Mine Workers were warned today that unless a daily quota of 550 loaded cars is mined at the Mahanoy City colliery of the Philadelphia Reading Coal and Iron Co. during the rest of the month the mine will be closed May 1.

George A. Ross, vice president of the company, and Edward G. Fox, general manager, sent the order to Joseph T. Kershetsky, president of UMW district 9. The colliery employs 500.

The operators said losses at Mahanoy City were higher than at any other colliery they operate. They pointed out that the 550-car quota would remain in effect on a month-to-month basis. If it is not met the colliery will be closed forthwith.

"This is not an impossible quota to meet," Ross said. "It was exceeded many times during 1947. This quota will only permit us to break even and affords no opportunity to make a profit."

Northern Ireland Prime Minister To Land In U.S. Today

NEW YORK, April 6.—(INS)—A stratocruiser carrying northern Ireland's Prime Minister Sir Basil Brooke neared New York early today and a promised demonstration by the American-Irish minutemen protesting the partition of their homeland.

Justice Matthew J. Troy of special sessions court, head of the minutemen, vowed that 1,000 anti-Parritionists will greet Sir Basil and his Lady when they descend from a British Overseas Airways plane at International Air Port.

The plane was scheduled to arrive at 10:45 a.m., but British Overseas Airways said "there has been some delay" and the plane was not expected to land until between 1 and 2 p. m.

The airline said no explanation has been given for the delay.

Over 100,000 babies are born each year in the United States with no medical attention of any kind.

Malone And Montgomery Are Ousted

HARRISBURG, April 6—(INS)—State Insurance Commissioner James F. Malone, Jr., and Athletic Commissioner John W. Montgomery today were the first major victims of Gov. James H. Duff's no-holds-barred fight with opponents of his statewide slate.

Duff fired the two officials yesterday for supporting the gubrnatorial campaign of Col. Jay Cooke who opposes the governor's handpicked candidate, Ex-Superior Court Judge John S. Fine.

The ousted insurance commissioner is slated to reply to Duff today.

Malone's ouster had been expected since he turned in openly for Cooke at a meeting of leaders who endorsed Duff for the U. S. Senate and Fine for governor. Montgomerys dismissal was a surprise.

Japanese Expert Favors Current Allied Regime

By HOWARD HANDLEMAN
(Far Eastern Director, I. N. S.)

TOKYO, April 6.—An urbane veteran of diplomacy in many capitals believes that of the six occupations he has lived through, the present Allied occupation of Japan is the only one that ever had a chance of success.

Shu Yosano, now chief of the research bureau of the Japanese foreign office, claimed he can represent himself as something of an expert in occupations because he has seen them in Manchuria, China, Indo-China, Paris, Rome and Tokyo.

"This is the only one that ever had a chance to succeed," he said. "The approach was right and the appeals were right, for the most part.

"However, the longer the occupation lasts the less chance it has of succeeding."

In this, Yosano agreed with Gen. Douglas MacArthur, who long has held that an occupation defeats its own purpose if it lasts too long.

Auto Accident Is Cause Of Second Damage Suit

PITTSBURGH, April 6—(INS)—A second damage suit was on file today in connection with the driverless auto accident in downtown Pittsburgh in which ten persons were injured.

The second suit was filed in behalf of Mrs. Anna Dardis, 60, and her husband, Matthew, both of the Mt. Washington district of Pittsburgh. Mrs. Dardis was one of the persons seriously injured in the accident.

The suit was similar to the one filed earlier this week in behalf of Mrs. Rose Ann Frushell, 25 who lost a leg in the crash.

Defendants were named as Frances X. Cuda, and her husband, Carl Cuda, a downtown Pittsburgh jeweler, operator and owner of the automobile involved in the accident.

Meantime, hospital authorities said six of the 10 victims still are hospitalized, although in "favorable" condition. Two others were still listed as critical.

44,737 Qualify For Primaries

Registration Forecasts Heavy Vote May 16

There are 44,737 voters registered and qualified to vote in the primary election on May 16, totals released today by the Office of Permanent Registration show.

Not all the vote will be cast, of course, due to deaths, sickness, removal and apathy, but the indications are the vote on May 16 will be a heavy one.

Of the total, 30,246 are registered Republican and 14,111 as Democrats. The Prohibitionists have 143 registered, 177 are registered No Party, 50 as Independent, 7 as Socialist and 3 as Progressive.

Divided as to sex there are 24,356 men and 20,381 women.

In New Castle

In New Castle there are 15,913 Republicans registered and 6,160 Democrats. In Ellwood City there are 3,124 Republicans and 2,089 Democrats. The other boros and townships show 11,209 Republicans and 5,862 Democrats.

There are 100 precincts in the county, 42 of them being in New Castle and 58 in the districts outside the city.

Of the 42 city precincts 41 of them show a preponderance of Republicans, and one Democrats, fourth precinct of the seventh ward.

Of the 58 precincts outside the city, 49 are predominantly Republican and 9 are Democrat. The nine Democratic precincts are Ellport, Ellwood City second precinct of the first ward, South New Castle Boro, Mahoning 2nd, Shenango 3rd, Washington 2nd, Wayne 1st, 3rd and 5th.

VERDICTS RENDERED

In the three-way case tried before Judge W. Walter Braham in court room number one verdicts have been received. In the case of W. J. McCormick versus the Exhibitors' Service Company and Angelo J. Regatuso, a verdict was rendered for the defendants. The plaintiff asked for $6381.45. In the case of Angelo J. Regatuso versus W. J. McCormick, Earl Dean, Theodore Stossmeister, Anthony and Nazzarino Scaramazzo, and George W. Lumley, the jury awarded the plaintiffs $500 but no part of the verdict was rendered against Lumley. The plaintiffs asked for $5000.

In the case of the Exhibitors' Service Company against the same defendants as in the second case, an award of $3600 was given the plaintiffs and Lumley held not liable. A total of $5578.83 was asked.

The case was one in which the truck of the Exhibitors' Service Company collided with a tractor-trailer owned by the defendants named in the second case. The collision occurred on March 15, 1949 near Princeton.

In the case of Isman Mariotti versus Fred C. and Eleanor Johnston, a verdict was rendered for the defendant. The case was tried by Judge John G. Lamoree in court room number two and was the result of an automobile accident.

NON-SUIT ORDERED

In court room number one the case of Raymond E. Reynolds, a minor by his parents, Rachel and Howard E. Reynolds against Frank Isaac was called and the plaintiff's testimony taken. At the conclusion of the testimony Judge W. Walter Braham ordered a non-suit upon the ground that the plaintiff had not made out a case. The case was one in which Reynolds hit the car of Frank Isaac, parked upon Highland Heights hill on October 29, 1948 when the weather was foggy. It appeared that Mr. Isaac had run out of gas and had parked his car. Reynolds was on his way to work and did not see the parked car in time.

In court room two before Judge Lamoree the case of David E. Barber versus Charles W. Robinson and Henry Hamilton was called. The plaintiff claims he purchased a truck from the defendants and that it was not up to what the seller said it was.

Employment Outlook For Summer Months In County Is Good

Lawrence county's employment outlook for the remainder of 1950 is much brighter than the outlook of several months ago, it is reported by George Gettings, manager of the local State Employment offices.

Highway construction projects and building construction within the county during the summer months, along with general increases in business activities, are expected to reduce greatly the present number of unemployed in the county.

There are approximately 3600 unemployed persons in the county at the present — including 800 women—it is reported by Mr. Gettings.

Inquiries for workers have increased greatly in the past month, it is reported, and all indications point to a continued increase.

During the month of March, 133 persons were placed in jobs through the local employment office. Of these, 73 were placed in the manufacturing industries, 29 were placed in private households with service jobs, 20 were employed by wholesale and retail dealers, three were hired by the utilities, three by government agencies and three were placed in agricultural work. Two were placed in construction work.

There are job opportunities at the present for qualified stenographers and clerical work, Mr. Gettings announces. There are also openings in domestic work.

As further evidence of recovery from the recent unemployment period is the drop in continuous claims for compensation at the county office.

During the week ending March 2, 1938 claims were filed. During the week ending March 30, 1427 claims were filed. This represents a drop of 411 in less than a month

WEDDING ANNOUNCEMENTS

"My wedding will be a quiet one in the parsonage. Should the groom's family be included in my list of those receiving announcements?"

Answer: Yes. Send announcements to all of your relatives and friends not having witnessed the wedding—and of course to the bridegroom's family.

Question: I am about to give a dinner at an inn and would like to know what amount I should tip the waiters. There will probably be two of them and about 15 guests. Should the manager or I supply the floral centerpiece?

Answer: The rule for tipping is ten per cent of the total bill, but there are times when such percentages would be too small. In your case, it would no doubt amount to a fair-sized tip. Each waiter should receive no less than one dollar. Consult the inn proprietor about your floral centerpiece. Usually such flowers are supplied without charge, by the management; but if this inn will not give such service you might order a centerpiece yourself or have the manager do so and put the cost on your bill.

Question: In a few days, I am to go to a dinner dance. Will it be correct for my escort to wear a dark business suit?

Answer: No. Inasmuch as you will wear dinner clothes, he must as well. Whenever the occasion requires the woman to wear dinner or evening clothes, the man must do so too.

Question: Please list for me gifts that may be given at a lingerie shower.

Answer: Anything that might be classed as lingerie—slips, bedjackets, negligees, etc.

Present your problems to Miss Markel who will promptly send personal replies to questions from readers inclosing stamped, addressed envelopes.

The idea that "20-20" vision is perfect is a fallacy. It merely means that one can see what he should at a distance of 20 feet.

Look how you save with Dynaflow

FIRST thing you notice, of course, is the bother and effort Dynaflow Drive* saves.

Next, that Dynaflow saves you physically—after long trips you're less tired and tense, more relaxed.

But then, as the miles pile up—and this comes from cold, recorded fact after Dynaflow's two years of public operation—you spot savings you hadn't expected . . .

You save on tires—because power application is steady, even. On clutch expense—the usual friction clutch is gone.

On transmission maintenance, and the rear-axle expenses likely to go with it. And your engine, oil-cushioned against normal shocks and strains, needs less upkeep.

You may find another surprise, too.

We are getting a steadily mounting number of well-satisfied letters about gasoline mileage with Dynaflow cars.

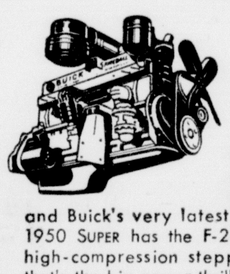
The SPECIAL shows some almost phenomenal records. The SUPER is delivering mileage comparing most favorably with gear-shift cars. And the ROADMASTER more than holds its own with cars of its size and bulk.

In short, there's much more to please budgets in the 1950 Dynaflow than its new lower price. Refinements over the past two years bring sizable savings over the car's life.

Knowing that, don't you want us to reveal Dynaflow's big side—the utter smoothness of America's first oil-does-it-all drive?

*Standard on ROADMASTER, optional at extra cost on SUPER and SPECIAL models.

Only Buick has Dynaflow—and with it goes: HIGHER-COMPRESSION Fireball valve-in-head power in three engines. (New F-263 engine in SUPER models.) • NEW-PATTERN STYLING, with MULTI-GUARD forefront, taper-through fenders, "double bubble" taillights • WIDE-ANGLE VISIBILITY, close-up road view both forward and back • TRAFFIC-HANDY SIZE, less over-all length for easier parking and garaging, short turning radius • EXTRA-WIDE SEATS cradled between the axles • SOFT BUICK RIDE, from all-coil springing, Safety-Ride rims, low-pressure tires, ride-steadying torque-tube • WIDE ARRAY OF MODELS with Body by Fisher.



MATCHLESS TEAM—DYNAFLOW AND F-263

In the Buick beauty pictured here you can have both Dynaflow and Buick's very latest in power. For every 1950 SUPER has the F-263 engine, that lively high-compression stepper that's the big power thrill of the season. Dynaflow Drive is optional equipment at extra cost.

PLOW UNDER STALKS TO CONTROL BORERS

The three "c's" of control—clean plowing and concerted community action—are suggested as effective ways for reducing corn borer damage this year on Lawrence county farms.

Last year the European corn borer cost corn growers in the United States $350,000,000—twice the toll of any previous year. Of this sum, $1,500,000 was the estimated damage done in Pennsylvania. Lawence county's share of this was around $35,000.

Turning under in clean plownig cornstalks and other litter in which the worms have spent the winter prevents their emergence as moths. The plowing must be done before May 1. Better than average plowing is needed; all stalks must be completely buried.

After May 1 the dormant worms change into moths, and by the time the corn gets a good start they flit about depositing on the corn the eggs which hatch into a new batch of corn-devouring worms.

Because the moths can fly for miles, and do not respect farm boundaries, all farmers in any community need to observe control practices. Spraying and dusting, practices recommended in the Midwest, are not economical on field corn under Pennsylvania conditions.

For clean plowing use a well-adjusted plow equipped with two 12 to 14-foot wires to pull the stalks and other debris under. Attach the wires a short distance at the front of the plow and let them drag in the furrow.

Three other practices will aid in borer control: (1) Plant hybrid corn; most types stand up better than open-pollinated kinds under corn borer infestation. (2) Plant on the normal planting date, not too early or too late for the main crop. (3) Use enough fertilizer and a well-prepared seedbed to insure vigorous growth.

King's Chapel Choir Will Offer Cantata

Choir of King's Chapel Methodist church will offer "The Resurrection Song," a cantata, Sunday evening, April 9, at 8 o'clock in the church. This beautiful Easter story in music will be sung under the direction of Walter Luikart with Mrs. T. G. Wallace presiding at the organ.

Special solos and duets will be given by Mary Alice Byler, Mary Catherine Green, Lois Mellor, Gloria Sleight, Rev. and Mrs. Merle Weaver, Robert and Walter Luikart. Interspersed with choral work, the Easter story seems to be alive again.

The auxiliary presented president Mary Gallo with a past president pin, and an identification bracelet. Each officer received a gift from President Gallo for their year of service.

Officers were appointed by Miss Gallo: secretary, Mrs. Andy Decerbo; color bearers—Mrs. Angelyn Catale, Miss Josephine Lupo, Mrs. Theresa Schaville, and Mrs. Nellie Mediate; patriotic instructress, Mrs. Lillian Klem; historian, Mrs. Margaret Ash; musician, Mrs. Blanche Penwell.

Next regular meeting, April 18, in Hillsville school.

OUTDOOR RAMBLES with N. R. CASILLO

CANTANKEROUS CRITTERS

Two of my fishing cronies never venture astream without first making thorough weather observations. Atmospheric pressure, air and water temperatures are taken and duly recorded. Types of clouds, if any, must be noted and reckoned into the resultant computations. Finally, if the computations tie in with the turbity of the water and the prevalence or absence of natural foods, then, and only then, do they get down to the business of fishing. Did I hear some one snicker?

A couple of years ago we were fishing in Erie bay just off the cement wall at the harbor entrance. The occupants of the fifty or more craft ranging from flat bottomed tubs to palatial cruisers anchored all about us, avidly caught bass for a period of about an hour providing they were using soft shelled crabs. Then, for one of those inexplicable reasons known only to the fish themselves, they quit biting.

During the lull we decided to move from the spot. However, before we took off, one of the quartet dug a thermometer out of his tackle box affixed it to his line and lowered it into the water. After he obtained the temperature at the depth where the fish seemed to have been before they had quit biting, we made our way through the maze of boats for the entrance to Misery Bay just off the Perry monument.

Before settling down at the second spot we had to find water of a depth and temperature corresponding to that of the place we had vacated. In ten-minutes we lowered our soft craws. Need I add that action was immediate? In twenty-minutes we had filled our respective quotas of bass.

Every successful fisherman whom we encountered that day had used soft shelled crayfish. Invariably, the few we asked that had been compelled to use a variety of other live and artificial baits had caught little or nothing.

From the immediately foregoing we can formulate a hypothesis, to wit: Would we have been as successful fishing in depths of any temperature just so long as we used crabs or would any baits pay off if used in water where the crabs proved successful?

Delving still further into the mysteries of temperature, we have discovered, much to our amazement, that it frequently works, i. e., under similar conditions of bottom topography, depth and the use of identical baits, similar species of fish will react alike. If all conditions jibe you may expect uniform results in different locations providing the environmental conditions ar similar, and that, of course, includes temperature. If this doesn't make sense, then, skip it.

The foregoing is but one instance of the many that could be cited of the successful use of various contrivances employed by fishermen who make the most of meteorological conditions. Of the scores of such gadgets the most popular and widespread seem to be calendars, thermometers and barometers.

Paradoxically, fishermen annually spend millions on multitudinous devices designed to help catch more fish. Yet, most sport fishermen wouldn't give a red cent for all the fish that they could carry if neither effort nor skill were entailed in their capture. Fishermen are indeed perverse critters.

Eagles' Ladies Honor Members

Special Program Is Presented

An impressive program honoring past presidents and charter members was held by members of the Ladies Auxiliary of the Eagles, No. 455, Tuesday evening at the Eagles' home with the president, Mrs. Elsie Pugh presiding.

Mrs. Henrietta Davis and Mrs. Olive Key and their honor guards, Mesdames Dorothy Skuba, Helen Reno, Pearl White, Kathryn Williams, Katherine Ross, Sue Ross, Frances Johnston, Mate Alben, Grace McCracken, Ann Criss, Agness Perry and Clara Passafiume, were in charge of the special program for the evening.

The guards presented to the auxiliary a special guest of the evening, State Secretary Jessie Graver of McKeesport. Mrs. Davis welcomed her and she was give a gift.

The guards presented the state inside guard, Mrs. Adeline Navarra, escorted by her daughter Janet to the president's station. Little Judy White gave her a bouquet of American Beauty roses. Her daughter presented a marine rose bowl, a gift from the auxiliary, and Mrs. Olive Key gave a short speech of welcome. Mrs. Davis gave her a diamond wrist watch, a gift from Mr. Navarra.

The guards then escorted the junior past president, Mrs. Dorothy Heckart, to the president, and her mother, Mrs. Cecelia Jackson, escorted her grandchildren, Sharon Lee and Walter Heckart, to their mother's place of honor. After a gracious speech by Mrs. Davis, Walter gave his mother a marine rose bowl and Sharon Lee gave her a white satin cushion on which lay an orchid, a gift of three of her friends, and the diamond past president's pin, which is given to to each past president as she completes her term of office.

The charter members and past presidents retired and later were escorted by the guards to a circle of 3 chairs around a table on which reposed a three-tiered cake. The conductor, Mrs. Melita Pilch, bade them enter and the Vice president, Mrs. Orpha McConnell, welcomed them to the honored circle. The president, Mrs. Elsie Pugh, read a poem for the occasion and asked the secretary, Mrs. Cecelia Jackson' to read the names of the charter members. The president then lit a large candle on the cake and the secretary read the past presidents' names. As her name was called each one lit a small candle. After making a secret wish, the honored guests blew out the candles.

Mrs. Davis gave a summary of the auxiliary's achievements and Mrs. Key spoke for the past presidents, after which each was presented with a gift. A bouquet of roses was given to the honorary mother of the year, Mrs. Margaret Krueger.

Mrs. Davis and Mrs. Key presented gifts to little Judy White, Sharon Lee and Walter Heckart, Miss Janet Navarra, Mrs. Phyllis Grote, who sang several lovely selections, and Mrs. Pearl Jenkins, pianist. Mrs. Davis then gave the president a gift from the auxiliary.

A delicious lunch was served, ending the evening's festivities.

The next meeting will be Tuesday, April 18.

Chairlady for April, Mrs. Madaline Navarra, will have a tureen dinner Tuesday, April 18, at 5 to 7:30 p. m. honoring the eleventh anniversary of the auxiliary. Practice was also called for Tuesday, April 11, and Thursday, April 13, at 8 p. m.

TIMELY ADVICE

LEYTON, Essex—Thieves have broken into parish church of Leyton four times, stealing valuable curtains and stripping lead from the roof. Now Canon R. Bertin, vicar of Leyton, has put up a notice outside the church which says: "It used to be said there was honor among thieves. Under the present social system you have no need to steal. Hard work leads to happiness, robbing churches to imprisonment."

Firemen Called To Jameson Hospital

Six fire companies answered the alarm from Box 13 at the Jameson Memorial hospital at 10:04 a.m. today, when a small fire occurred in the pharmacy in the basement of the building. The damage was slight, J. F. Freidheim, director of the hospital stated.

Miss Elizabeth Sakal, pharmacist, was preparing a solution of drugs over an open flame, when the solution became ignited. With rare presence of mind, Miss Sakal, set the blazing pan on the floor, and closed the door of the room, escaping from a window and making her way to the lobby of the hospital, where she spread the alarm. She suffered burns of the hands from the blazing solution.

The engineering department went immediately to the scene and by use of new type extinguishers recently installed, soon extinguished the blaze. Earl White, engineer, suffered a laceration of the hand when the glass door knob of the pharmacy door was broken in fighting the fire.

Mr. Freidheim praised Chief H. F. Steinbrink and firemen for their prompt response in answering the alarm. The patients and most of the hospital personnel were unaware that a fire had occurred until some time afterwards, so efficiently was the job of extinguishing the blaze carried out.

HAZERS WIN

MURFREESBORO, Tenn.—Police said one bridegroom outsmarted himself. When he hid his automobile before his wedding to keep pranksters from bothering it, they "stole" it from its hiding place, brought it to the public square, decorated it lavishly and saw that it got two red tickets for illegal parking.

Plans Made To Aid Army Week

Legion Auxiliary To Share Program

Members of the Legion Auxiliary gathered in the American Legion Home, North Jefferson street, with the president, Edna Hedland, in charge.

Membership chairman reported 68 paid-up members. Education of war orphans chairman Dorothy Boyle read a letter received from our orphan in Scotland school. Mrs. Boyle is sending an Easter gift to him from the unit. Pan-American chairman Lillian Hartman, read an article from the "National News" about Equador. Ethel Shaffer, hospital and sick chairman, gave her report, on sending greeting cards and flowers to the sick, and sympathy for the departed.

The unit is planning to take part in "Army Week" in May. Hospital equipment chairman Helen Daugherty, gave a report on equipment, and that a letter of appreciation had been received for loan of a hospital bed. Americanism chairman Ida Suber is planning on presenting medal awards to Junior High students for outstanding essays on "Americanism". Plans are under way for annual Mothers Day banquet in May.

President Hedland gave a report on the tri-county council she attended in New Brighton, last week. Council will pack Easter baskets for veterans in Deshon hospital, Butler.

The local unit will be host to the Tri-county Council on May 27. A social party has been planned for Monday evening, April 17, which will be open to the public, with Eleanor Wilkins as general chairman.

A tasty lunch was served by social committee Edna Hedland, Ethel Shaffer, Gertrude Speed, and Dorothy Boyle.

Next regular business meeting, Monday, May 1, in the Legion Home.

Guarding the mails was one of the odd duties Marines performed in past years. In 1921 and again in 1926, Leathernecks were assigned this task at the request of the Post Office Department.

THE FAMILY SCRAPBOOK

By DR. ERNEST G. OSBORNE

Learning From Dad

One of the most important things fathers bring to their children is an early knowledge about the outside world. Most of us don't realize how much children "pick up" in this way.

As dads talk about what has happened at work, boys and girls begin to understand what it means to work, how people get along together and all sorts of other things. As he makes comments about what he has read in the paper or heard on the radio, the youngsters accumulate a storehouse of information and ideas. As he makes plans for a motor trip with mother and talks about the best route to take or as he tries to figure out whether the family can afford a new car or furniture or a summer vacation, the youngsters are taking it all in.

Sometimes parents wait until the kids have been packed off to bed before they talk together about the day's happenings or thrash through something else that needs to be decided. It's far better, though, to discuss most of these things so the children can hear about them. They'll learn a lot of important things about the way things "tick".

April Showers Bring Hazards To Motorists

HARRISBURG, April 6.—April can be a dangerous driving month, according to safety suggestions issued from State Police Headquarters today urging drivers to "make every drive a safety drive".

"While we think of April as one of the most pleasant months of the year, every driver should remember that the quickly changing weather of Spring brings with it many dangers," said Colonel C. M. Whilhelm, State Police Commissioner.

"Quick showers make roads slippery and windshields dirty. This combination can be fatal. Slow down when it rains and adapt driving speed to conditions. Make every drive a safety drive".

The commissioner emphasized that a careful check of tires, brakes and windshield wipers is necessary at this time of year, as winter driving has taken its toll of wear.

Wesley Church Plans For Easter Services

Easter day services for the Wesley Methodist church will be quite impressive, the pastor, Rev. Evetett Spring has announced. The day's program will begin at 6:30 a.m. with a sunrise service under the direction of the pastor.

At 7 a.m. the young adult group will sponsor the sunrise breakfast in the church basement. Church school will convene at 9:45 and worship at 11. The pastor's theme will be "The Power That Removes Stones"; a membership class will be received into the church on profession of faith.

At 6:30 p.m. the Youth Fellowship will meet in the church, followed at 7:30 p.m. by the church choir singing its Easter cantata.

MOUSE BROADCASTS

MEMPHIS, Tenn.—Mrs. Billy McCollum wondered why the cat kept watch at the small kitchen radio until she heard a faint sound inside, and it wasn't music. The cat had chased a mouse into the cabinet.

Pupils At North Street Present Easter Program

A white-robed choir presented an interlude of original Easter music at North street school Wednesday evening.

The stage was attractively decorated in white, with several potted green plants placed across the front stage. Students from the fifth and sixth grades composed the choir and were capably directed by Mrs. Margaret Hogan. The entire program and musical selections had been written by Mrs. Hogan.

Arthur Walker, principal at the school, welcomed the group. He invited parents and friends to remain after the program and visit the classrooms.

Claudette Crabill was narrator for the occasion, stating the theme of the evening's program was "the conquest of death and the gift of life everlasting was for those who believed."

Story Unfolds

A solo, "Man of Sorrows", was sung by Naomi Fuleno, followed by the story of Jesus in the temple. The Last Supper and the betrayal of Jesus by Judas was told, with appropritae hymns accompanying the narration. Several lovely selections were read, with one favorite being "In My House Are Many Mansions". Rose Pietro read the verse "Let Not Your Heart Be Troubled".

The inspiring prayer of Jesus in the garden was presented by Joyce Catlin. This was followed by a solo, "If I Could Have Been in That Garden", by Dolores Ellis. In conclusion the story of Jesus being condemned and crucified was related. A final scene disclosed Mary and the Other Mary at the empty tomb. The closing hymn was the glorious "He Is Risen".

Special guests of the evening were Dr. and Mrs. Frank Burton and Mrs. Elizabeth Kleckner of the school board. Success of the evening was due to the efforts of the personnel of the school and several friends.

Room visitation followed, with parents going to various rooms and viewing the work being done by the students of the school.

Glen Hogue Speaker At Leesburg Meeting

Glen Hogue, of Castlewood, will be the special speaker at the Leesburg Youth for Christ Rally Saturday evening at 8 o'clock in the Leesburg Presbyterian church. Special music will be presented during the program.

Navy air combat units have been reduced since 1949 by approximately 33 per cent.

Kiwanis Hears Dr. T. H. Morris

Methodist Leader Speaks Wednesday

In a message appropriate to the Easter season, Dr. Thomas H. Morris, superintendent of the Grove City District of the Methodist church, addressed member of New Castle Kiwanis Club at their noon luncheon meeting in The Castleton Wednesday noon.

Dr. Morris took as his theme the words of Christ when he came out of the wilderness after 40 days of of fasting to meet the tempter, "Man cannot live by bread alone."

Man has found since then that he must have things that satisfy his soul and his mind.

The philosophy of secularism, which was popular 100 years ago, has no determining point he stated. It shows a lack of concern about whether there is a God or not It takes the theory that man is pretty much sufficient unto himself.

The Pilgrims and other early settlers of this country found also that man could not live by bread alone and came to this country to found a nation where one could worship according to the dictates of his own conscience.

What the Kiwanis clubs of this country need is to face certain dangers that confront mankind and to face them boldly with this knowledge that man cannot live by bread alone, he stated in conclusion.

Report Steel Mills Booked To Capacity

NEW YORK, April 6.—(INS)—The magazine Iron Age reports that every major steel mill in the country is booked to capacity for months ahead on all major products

It said steel is moving to customers on the allocation system developed during the hectic post-war period, and that mills are being swamped with requests for steel faster than it can be turned out.

The national metal working weekly quoted some of the best informed men in the steel business as predicting that a drop in demand will be experienced in the second half of the year.

However, it observed that there is no real evidence as yet that there will be any serious drop in steel demand before the end of the third quarter.

Iron age said that total steel production this year could amount to between 80,000,000 and 85,000,000 tons of ingots. This would be greater than 1949 production of 77,868,353 tons, and would compare with the alltime record set in 1944, when a wartime peak of 89,641,575 tons were turned out.

Taking its cue from steel demand, Iron Age reported an advance in the steel scrap composite price to new high levels for the year. Advances were recorded at Pittsburgh, Philadelphia, Buffalo and other centers.

There are several places in the world's oceans where fresh water can be found. It comes from springs from subterranean rivers.

Around Hollywood

By FRANK NEILL

(International News Service Staff Correspondent)

HOLLYWOOD, April 5.—John Lund thinks Eskimos are off their rockers. He is quite happy, indeed, that he is not an Eskimo, particularly when he is assigned to play a love scene in a movie.

Lund, who has kissed some of the most glamorous gals of the films, declared:

"Rubbing noses may be fun for some people, but it seems like an awful waste of time when you can really kiss a beautiful babe.

"I maintain that romancing with Hollywood queens should not be rated as just another part of a day's job and be dismissed casually because a guy happens to get paid for it.

"Actually," he said, "it really is wonderful work if you can get it."

Not Bad Acting

Honest John ought to know. During his acting career he has had the opportunity to buss such glamor girls as Betty Hutton, Gail Russell, Barbara Stanwyck, Esther Williams, Wanda Hendrix, Olivia De Haviland, Marlene Dietrich, Paulette Goddard and Marie Wilson.

Lund refused to say which gave him the biggest kick, asserting only:

"They're all wonderful."

John can't string along with some of his screen contemporary pals who have allowed that kissing a beautiful babe for the screen is no fun and is not a thrill for the simple reason it is make-believe.

"That's silly talk," he said.

"I don't mean to infer that a male star necessarily falls in love with his leading lady. In fact, the hero and the heroine often are scarcely on speaking terms when they go into a high-powered clinch.

"And naturally, you can become quite self-conscious in doing a love scene before a large gallery of onlookers on a crowded sound stage.

"Joe Cotten tells the story of playing a big romantic scene with Joan Fontaine for 'September Affair.' There were so many visiting firemen present that he suddenly found himself kissing a school teacher from Des Moines instead of Joan."

Lund aso admitted that such marathon feats as Montgomery Clift performed in kissing Shelley Winters 129 times in one day for a sequence in "A Place in the Sun" called for a wealth of physical endurance.

"But cut in any way you want to," he asserted, "kissing is fun—before a camera or in private."

John has his personal choice of a favorite kissing partner. She is a striking brunette, a former Conover model and actress who goes under the name of Marie Charton.

She aso happens to be Mrs. John Lund.

Food Situation Reported Better

WASHINGTON, April 6.—(INS)—The Office of Agricultural Relations says that the world food situation has improved to such an extent that the main problem now is to spread the food around so everybody can get some.

It is not so much a problem of deficient food supplies for the world as a whole, but more a problem of marketing and putting food where hungry people can get more of it, the agency says.

OFAR says a good indication of the dislocated world food supply is the "mounting surpluses" in the so-called hard-currency areas and the unfilled consumption needs in deficit areas.

And while the countries of the world will produce increasingly more food again this year, the agency says, food production still will have a hard time catching up with increased population.

During the past two years world food production has been two to three per cent above prewar production, but world population has gone up 10 per cent in the meantime.

The agency expects European countries to produce more meat, milk and animal fats this year than in 1949. That in turn was well above 1948 output. A substantial increase in egg production also is considered likely.

The postwar recovery of Russian agriculture continued in 1949 even though weather conditions were unfavorable, the agency says. Indications that the Soviet food situation has improved is reflected in the greater availability of bread.

Over one-third of American children are cared for in hospitals which are inadequately staffed and equipped, according to a study by the Academy of Pediatrics.

New York Yanks Defeat Cards 8-4 Reynolds Goes Route

Robinson Shows Big Improvement

Jackie Learning To Place Hits

FORT WORTH, Tex., April 6.—(INS)—It was just about this time a year ago that Barney Shotten, noting the amazing improvement in Jackie Robinson's hitting, predicted that baseball's first Negro player would lead the National league in batting.

Considering that Robinson had never hit .300 in the majors, that was also an amazing prediction. But Shotton didn't think so and at the time he said that if Jackie had started baseball early enough to learn how to hit to right field, he might have become a .400 hitter.

For the records, Robinson has learned to hit to right. About 25 per cent of his blows in piling up a .420 batting average this spring have been to that sector. However, it wasn't until yesterday that Robbie proved his ability to hit to right at will by putting the runner in motion.

Rangers Need Win Tonight

(By International News Service)

The New York Rangers take another crack tonight at winning the game that will get them into the final round of the National Hockey league's Stanley Cup playoffs.

A victory over the Canadiens at Montreal Forum will place the Broadway Blues in the championship round. The Rangers took three in a row from the habitants in their best four-of-seven semi-final series.

Then the Canadiens kept their slim chances alive by whipping the New Yorkers, 3 to 2 in overtime Tuesday night.

Fight To Finish

In Detroit, the fight to the finish between the Red Wings and the Toronto Maple Leafs resumes tonight. Each club has won two games. The Wings took a thrilling 2-to-1 double overtime game from the Leafs Tuesday night in Toronto.

Tonight's game is a virtual "must" to both teams and the Wings announced they are bringing up three Omaha farmhands to strengthen their forces. The three recruits are Defenseman Marcel Pronovost, Left Wing John Wilson and Center Larry Wilson.

Bessemer High Girls Win Third Straight

Bessemer high school's successful girl basketball team racked up its third straight win last night by defeating the alumni, 36 to 22.

The Cementer girls had taken East Brook, 33 to 23, on Tuesday after school.

Mrs. Marian Uber's charges are anxious to schedule additional games after school with other girl's teams of high school age. Regular girls' rules are used in these contests.

Cleveland Barons Defeated By Caps

CLEVELAND, April 6.—(INS)—As a result of goalie Terry Sawchuk's brilliant net-minding, the Indianapolis Caps held a one-game edge over the Cleveland Barons today in the best of seven playoff series for the Calder cup championship.

The Caps, who finished second in the Western Division of the American Hockey League, dropped the Barons, 4-1, last night in Cleveland in the first playoff contest.

Giants Topple Indians, 8 To 2

Larry Jansen Goes Full Nine Innings

(By International News Service)

Now is the time of year when major league pitchers try for the nine inning question. The prize more often than not turns out to be an opening day pitching assignment.

That being the case, Allie Reynolds might very well get the nod from Manager Casey Stengel of the World Champion Yankees.

Old Wahoo became the first Bomber hurler to go the route yesterday and he beat the St. Louis Cardinals, 8 to 4, at St. Petersburg. Reynolds biggest feat was that he went nine innings. He walked nine men, hit one and gave up nine hits

DiMaggio Lame

Joe DiMaggio pulled up lame with a charley-horse in the first inning and had to retire from the game. Nothing serious, the Yankees say. And Spec Shea, Wally Hood, Paul Hinrichs and Fenton Mole were sent to the Kansas City Lake Wales training camp as the Yankees broke camp and began their northward advance.

Larry Jansen of the Giants went nine innings at Houston, Tex., and gave Leo Durocher something to cheer about. The New York ace allowed but four hits as he broke a five game losing streak by whipping the Cleveland Indians, 8 to 2. Bob Lemon stared for Cleveland and worked seven innings, giving up six runs and eight hits.

Dodgers Win

In Dallas, the Brooklyn Dodgers outslugged the Dallas Eagles, 10 to 6. Big Don Newcombe worked seven innings and looked good except in the fourth when he was nicked for four hits and three runs.

Hoot Evers hit two homers, one a grand slammer and a couple of doubles as the Detroit Tigers beat the Macon Peaches, 11 to 9 in Macon, Ga. Charley Keller also helped his new Bengal mates with a pinch-hit four bagger.

Those spring happy Cincinnati Reds pounded out a 16 to 5 victory over Atlanta and Shreveport (La.) downed the Phillies, 8 to 2.

Biggest slugfest of the day occurred at Corpus Christi, Tex., where the Cubs beat the Browns, 22 to 12.

Washington's game with Kansas City at Orlando, Fla., and the Philadelphia Athletics' game with West Palm Beach at West Palm Beach were cancelled by rain.

Pirates Top Pelicans

The A's made news by announcing that Phil Marchildon, the righthander who never righted himself after returning from the war, has been sold to Buffalo of the International League.

Pittsburgh beat the Pelicans 6 to 4 at New Orleans in a night game and in another arc-light game at Beaumont, Tex., Beaumont defeated the White Sox 7 to 5.

East Side Shamrocks To Have Practices

East Side Shamrocks softball team will hold practice sessions tonight, Friday night and Monday night at Rose avenue field at 5:15, it is announced.

It is requested that all players be present as well as any newcomers. Measurements were taken at last night's meeting for new uniforms. Plans were also made for a club party to be held April 26.

New Castle Senators Shaping Up As Strong Club This Year

Certificates Are Given Senators' Stockholders

Upwards of 100 New Castle Citizens Baseball Inc., stockholders picked up their certificates at the Hotel New Penn last night, and heard President Al Scarazzo, and Attorney Frank Moretti, acting business manager, tell of what has transpired in the way of getting together a winning ball club for this city for 1950 in the Class C Mid-Atlantic League.

It was a most enthusiastic meeting and optimism was heard on all sides, for a first division team here this summer. Moretti explained the Washington working agreement and annouced four players that have been optioned here by Charlotte, the Class B farm club of Washington—the players are: Alphonse Mouton, a third baseman, (290) with Concord, in the Class D North Carolina league; Stanley Zedalis, a pitcher, with Orlando, Fla., in the Florida State league, (20 and 8 in 1948 and 5 and 12 last year); William Horne a catcher with Charlotte last year, (250) and Don Donero, with the Brooklyn Bushwicks last year, a clever second sacker.

More Help On Way

Others will be optioned here by Charlotte in a week or two, Bluege informed the local owners.

A board of directors meeting was held after the stockholders meeting with President Scarazzo in charge. The directors approved of the purchase of balls and other matters including the four players mentioned above. Several bills were ordered paid.

The New Castle Senators will leave for their training camp, at Greencastle, Pa., on Sunday, April 16th at 10 a.m. Greencastle is 215 miles from New Castle south of Chambersburg, near the Maryland state border.

Anthony DeFelice, a catcher with the Ecclesian club last year has been added to the camp roster. DeFelice, an ambitious youngster will be given a chance to make the Senators team along with Dick Janacone, Babo Orlando, Mickey Michalojko, and Tony Qughlires of New Castle and Fuleno of Ellwood City.

Shaping Up Well

The newest acquistion of the Senators is young Bobby Jones of Newton Falls, O., a rookie infielder. Bill Rautzhan who was with Oil City last year as their regular first sacker refused to report here when approached after the White Sox had wanted to sell New Castle his contract.

The Senators are shaping up well at the moment and will have more than 30 young ball players at camp, along with veterans Herman Kiel, Frank Wagner and George Sutch, the latter a heavy hitter with Youngstown in 1947 and 1948.

Ossie Bluege is "high" on Pat Vastano slated to get a short stop tryout here, and Donnie Donero, a second baseman. Mouton will be given the opportunity of wining the third base job it was indicated. The Perry, La., youth is husky and can hit. Orlando and Sutch will be other third base candidates, also, with Sutch also a short stop possibility providing Vastano does not measure up.

Blackwood Wins Over Art Towne

AKRON, O., April 6.—(INS)—Joe Blackwood of Paterson, N. J., took a unanimous upset decision over Artie Towne of New York last night in a 10-round bout in Akron.

Driving Range Opens Saturday

Riley's golf driving range on US Route 224 will open for the season Saturday, April 8, at 7 p. m.

Free tips and instructions for beginners and those persons wishing to improve their games are are available.

President Frank McKinney of the Pirates has said that the signing of Pettit was above board and "there was not one iota of double dealing with either the laws of baseball or of California."

Arcaro To Ride Hill Prince In Kentucky Derby

NEW YORK, April 6.—(INS)—Eddie Arcaro was certain today about which horse he will ride in seeking his fifth Kentucky Derby victory. It will be C. T. Chenery's Hill Prince, the horse that may be the favorite.

The great bay colt gave America's premier jockey quite a ride yesterday in winning the first section of the $20,000 experimental handicap at Jamaica race track.

Hill Prince came from far back in the stretch to win the six furlong event by a length and a quarter of J. C. Brady's Starcase. Brady's other entry, casemate, finished third.

Arcaro was enthused over his mount's showing.

"He insisted on running his own race," Eddie said. "He had plenty left and will be hard to catch in the derby. I think he could have run all day."

Pettit Faces Pirates Tonight

NEW ORLEANS, April 6—(INS)—Paul Pettit, the Pittsburgh Pirates $100,000 bonus baby, is scheduled to face Elmer Riddle today when the Pelicans meet the Pirates.

The Pirates defeated the Pelicans last night 6-4.

Billy Meyer Not Worried About Pirates, Refuses To Listen To 1950 "Grave Diggers"

By JOHN GOLIGHTLY
(International News Service Sports Writer)

PITTSBURGH, April 6.—From the far west Monday came the soft, lulling words of Bill Meyer which were intended to put away until another day the fear that the Pittsburgh Pirates were not exactly ready, willing and able to do battle for the National league pennant.

It was a perfectly timed "pitch" designed to eliminate the pessimism which followed an eight-game string of Bucco defeats to minor league clubs, the Cleveland Indians and Chicago Cubs.

Meyer Not Worried

From the holocaust of defeat, the Pittsburgh manager raised a stubborn chin and demanded to know: Why all the apprehension? There is a special way to analyze these defeats, according to old Bill, and that is exactly what he is doing.

"Instead of everyone looking at these games the way I do," he explained, "they are all saying I have a poor ball club."

Does Meyer admit this possibility? Not on your life!

"Well, let them figure that way," he went on. "It makes the big task easier when the bell rings."

Without Kiner

There is some substance of logic there which the reader is challenged to discover. But let old Bill have his say.

"My first line pitching," he said, "has been fine. The series with the Giants showed me something I liked. It shows me our club can battle those good pitchers, and without Ralph (Kiner) in the lineup, that is a real lift for us."

Concede old Bill the point because the Giants do have pitchers who last year added some trimmings of distinction. Of 23 pitchers who pitched ten or more complete games in the National league last year, New York had four: Larry Jansen, Dave Koslo, Sheldon Jones and Montia Kennedy.

Yet the Giants are but one club, not at all highly-regarded, and conceded only a bare chance of finishing among the first four when the play starts for keeps.

Meyer's statements in Arizona probably were a repetition of the well-timed and stereotyped bursts of optimism he let fly last spring. The Pirates looked just as bad then, and nothing happened to changed their appearance during the ensuing season.

But the fans, who apparently loved to be fooled, never caught on and attended Pittsburgh games with the regularity of model church-goers.

If Meyer's Buccos had been able to avoid a season-ending tailspin

Meeting Slated Saturday To Plan Little-Big League

Little-Big leagues are coming to Castle.

A meeting for boys and adults interested in forming the newest thing in baseball for young fellows will be held Saturday afternoon at 2:30 at the Ecclesian club.

Special movies on the subject and an outline for organizing a Little-Big league here will be presented.

The Little-Big leagues are thriving all over the country. Ellwood City and Youngstown are already under way.

Smaller Fields

The plan provides baseball for boys in the eight to 12-year age group. Bases are 60 feet and the pitchers' mound is 40 feet from home plate. Distance along the foul lines is 175 feet.

Tentative plans for a New Castle league would have all boys interested report to a regular spring training field for tryouts. Then four teams would be selected to represent four sections of town. One team would consist of first and second ward youths, one of third and fourth, one of fifth and eighth and one of sixth and seventh.

Games would be six innings long and each team fully equipped. A team of 12 players would have three boys between eight and 10 years old, four between 10 and 11, and five between 11 and 12. The rivals would play two games a week.

First Attempt Here

This is the first time that an attempt has been made to organize the Little-Big league in New Castle. The idea has been very successful in many cities throughout the country. It is very important that all boys and adults interested in furthering this project attend the Saturday meeting.

County Commissioner Joseph Travers has already spoken to the Lions club about the project. The commissioner also indicated today that a special, well equipped field may be used exclusively for the young fellows.

Softball Umpires To Meet Tonight

City softball umpires will hold a very important meeting tonight at the YMCA at 8 o'clock, it is announced by Bird Riley.

Every umpire working in the league this season should attend the meeting, it is announced.

EAGLES TO PRACTICE

Eagles 455 softball team will hold a practice tonight at 5 o'clock at Dean park—weather permitting. All former PAC and Eagle members wanting to play are asked to report.

Semi-Finals In Cadet Tournament; Junior All-Stars Feature Y Card

Four top flight basketball games are booked on the YMCA floor for tonight beginning at 6:30.

Semi-final games in the cadet tourney will be played at 6:30 and at 9:30. In the middle contests, all-tournament teams from the recently completed junior tourney will compete.

Scotties earned their way into the semi-finals with a 34 to 26 win over Terrace, who had replaced the Shenango Y. The latter had used an ineligible player.

Gersons' whipped Lepores' 49 to 38 with Duke Vitale, Bill Shewman, and Joe Lane leading the scoring for the winners. Gersons' will meet Scotties at 6:30.

Cummins Hits 29

The 9:30 cadet tourney game features Lighthouse against the Kaufmans'. Lighthouse stomped Phillips 73 to 60 last night and Kaufman's had previously qualified. Clyde Cummins staged the tourney's biggest single man scoring spree last night by hooping 29 markers for Lighthouse.

At the conclusion of the junior tournament, awards were presented only to the first team all-tournament selections. However the judges picked three more teams with the idea of presenting these games.

The contests will not only present some of the best basketball talent in the county but will also tend to verify or discredit the judges' selection.

Pick Three Subs

The third and fourth all-tourney fives will meet at 7:30 and the first and second quints at 8:30. The all-tourney teams have been permitted to pick up three additional men each to serve as substitutes.

Junior tournament first team selections were Don Black, Tom Hutchison, Don Reed, Wayne Gray and Dick Lewis. Pitted against the first five are Dick Hamilton, Sam Fiorante, Ray Latsko, John Sansone and Ralph Manzo.

Duke Vitale, Chuck Andrews, Ran Wolford, Bill Emery and Chuck McDevitt are on the third team picked to oppose Mike Carbone, Don Lehberger, Bill Shewman, Tom Clarke and Joe Marinelli.

Don't Overlook Cleveland Indians In Picking 1950 Pennant Winners

By LAWTON CARVER
(International News Service Sports Editor)

NEW YORK, April 6.—(INS)—In sizing up the American League pennant race most observers pick the New York Yankees to repeat or say that the Boston Red Sox will nose out the world champions and let it go at that.

They overlook, among others, the Cleveland Indians, who may be just tough enough to do what they did season before last—come banging in there to the flag and then win the world series.

The Indians will be an improving club from here on, due to the fact that Bill Veeck has moved to other pastures. The Indians won their pennant in 1948 in spite of everything he could do to stop them. In new hands they should be tougher.

Boudreau Stays

Veeck tried his best to rid the Cleveland premises of Lou Boudreau before the 1948 season began, then found himself stuck with the best shortstop and manager in baseball. Boudreau won the pennant and you can't argue against that.

Veeck finally moved out from under Cleveland through a sale of his holdings and upon departure was bade adieu with a cheery reminder that he is one of the luckiest gents ever to invest in the so-called national pastime.

There always must be a question as to whether Veeck or Larry MacPhail, one-time head of the Dodgers and the Yankees, is the better hustler. They both have done all right before pulling out from the scene of their financial conquests.

They came to town, chalked up their cues, looked around for some one interested in a friendly game and through their peculiar genius for promoting got theirs and went away.

Veeck Determined

There is nothing reprehensible about their way of doing things. For one thing, they both produced championships, even though Veeck's was acquired in spite of his determination to wreck his club.

MacPhail did it differently. He built up pennant-winners at any cost, and if he were to step back into baseball tomorrow, with even such a misfit conglomeration as the St. Louis Browns or the Chicago White Sox, he might in a year or two produce again.

You can't be too sure about Veeck in this connection. He was saved from himself when Cleveland fans prevented him from getting rid of Boudreau. You can't tell for sure whether he would come up with another winner or fiddle around down in the second division, building simply an interesting club and corresponding gate receipts.

He left a pretty fair club at Cleveland, one which might conceivably show up both the none too steady Yankees and the Red Sox, who persistently fold up in the stretch.

The Yankees can be depended upon to give it all they've got all the way. If that isn't good enough they will have whatever comfort comes with knowing they tried.

HERE and THERE IN SPORTS LAND

VERNON WILLIAMS scored a technical knockout over Elkins Brothers in the sixth round at Washington, D. C. . . . State Game Commission reports a total game kill of 3,416,888 animals and birds in the 1949 Pennsylvania hunting season. . . . Relative to Tuesday's item in which it was reported a rattlesnake would die within 30 minutes if exposed to hot sunlight, Ed. Fritz, Jr., says he saw this occur in a California desert. . . . City Baseball league officials have agreed to accept some, but not all of the proposals, of the Lawrence County Umpires association. . . . Monday night was a big night for the French, Robert Villemain having won easily over Otis Graham in Philadelphia, and Laurent Dauthuille having knocked out Charley Affif in Pittsburgh. . . . For the third time in more than 150 games the Globe-Trotters bowed, 66-58, to a quintet of College All-Stars in Cleveland. . . . Two years from the time the Jefferson A. C. paid Tony Janiro $10 for a three round amateur bout in The Arena, Tony drew a $10,000 purse in New York City. Judging from his draw with Rocky Graziano, he's en route to another $10,000 purse. . . . Georgeous George was fined $25, and barred for 60 days by the Youngstown Boxing and Wrestling commission for violation of the rules in his bout with Bobby Ford, Saturday night. Specifically, George was charged with throwing Ford out of the ring. He also pushed Ford's head against the steel ring pole, on the outside of the ring, causing a scalp wound. . . . Chuck Higgins who was knocked out by Charley Burley recently in Pittsburgh, will box undefeated Floyd Morris in Pittsburgh, April 13.

Jim Savage, former heavyweight, who boxed Tom McMahon and many others around New York, several decades ago, is a dealer in a Las Vegas, Nev., gaming place. Among Jim's opponents was Al Reich, called the Adonis of the ring in those days. Reich figured in the Lindbergh investigation. Another dealer in Las Vegas is Ken Strong who did his boxing in California. Phil Brock, former lightweight, whose eyesight is far less than it ought to be, is in Cleveland. His brother Matt, who beat Babe Picato and who boxed in the old Coliseum here, is also in Cleveland. Phil Glassman, manager of the late Battling Levinsky, Benny Bass, and other good boys, lives in Philadelphia. Suey Welch, who piloted K.O. Christner, Gorilla Jones, et. al. is a Los Angeles night-club owner. Until recently Jim Thorpe, the world's greatest athlete, at one time, was his employe. Since then Jim has taken over the management of Sunny War Cloud, the Indian wrestler. Johnny Ray, manager of Billy Conn, is in Pittsburgh. Alvie Miller who was knocked out by Johnny Kilbane during the time Jimmy Dunn and Kilbane were on the "outs" is in Lorrain, O. Bud Taylor is in Los Angeles. Lew Tendler runs a hotel in Philadelphia. Tommy O'Toole, Philadelphia, who split even in two fights with the Englishman, Owen Moran, is in Quaker City. Harvey Thorpe lives in Kansas City, likewise Art McGirl who lost to George Chip in Australia. Art is a bowling alley employe.

Trout season will be ushered in one week from Saturday. According to a report an extraordinarily large trout was placed in the Slippery Rock. The biggest taken from the stream last season was caught by Mike Orlando near Rose Point bridge. . . . According to reports the Dy Jones vaudeville show which will be a feature lasting one hour at the Council of Sportsman's banquet, April 13, in the Cathedral, will be "the tops". Various boys in different sections of Lawrence county are constructing bird-houses, each hopeful of receiving a prize. The display of outdoors sporting equipment is expected to be the best in the history of the council. Those fortunate to have heard Attorney Clyde Shumaker make a recent address at Clarion, claim he is one of the finest orators on outdoors life in Pennsylvania. He is to deliver the principal address. . . . Marty Cutler, ex-fighter, who roomed next to Here & There in New York City, with Jack Debbs, are said to have been the originators of the present day type of wrestling. Marty travelled with Jack Johnson as a sparring partner through Europe and is a brother of Charlie Cutler, old-time grappler who originated the "Dude" act by wearing spats. (Seldom during snow days in winter time is Phil Greer seen without spats). . . . The late Knute Rockne was once a boxer. He fought under the name of 'Frankie Brown'. . . . Jack Dempsey held the heavyweight crown 255 days longer than Jack Johnson. . . . Willie Pep had 62 fights without a defeat. Willie Beecher and Zulu Kid also had 62. Rosey Stoy who boxed Mog Pugh here had a steady run of 78 victories. Tony Zill who defeated Battling Terry at Campbell and Beaver Falls had a steady stream of 102.

Masters Golf Tournament Opens In Atlanta Today

By CECIL BROWNLOW
(International News Service Sports Writer)

AUGUSTA, Ga., April 6.—The largest field ever entered in the Masters Invitational tournament teed off today at Augusta in the 14th renewal of golf's "blue-ribbon" battle.

Defending champion Sammy Snead ranked an odds-on favorite over a crew of 65 greats, near greats and hopefuls competing for the $10,000 prize money.

Snead Favorite

In the odds list issued by tournament officials, the White Sulphur Springs, W. Va., golfer was rated a three to one choice to repeat his 1949 performance and become the first man in the Masters' history to capture the title two years running.

Veteran Ben Hogan, Hershey, Pa., professional, and Carey Middlecoff, Ormond Beach, Fla., pro, are ranked at four to one to capture the championship.

Snead Eases Up

North Carolina's John Palmer rated fourth at five to one and Jimmy Demaret of Ojai, Calif., and Jack Burke, Jr., of White Plains, N. J., were listed at six to one.

Snead, leading money winner thus far in 1950, has eased up on practcie rounds to nurse a wrenched back that hild him out of the Wilmington, N. C., Azalea tournament last weekend.

He toured the trap-infested Augusta National course yesterday with a one-below-par 71.

Hogan To Play

But bantam Ben Hogan, pushing hard on the comeback trail after a near-fatal automobile accident last year, is the gallery's sentimental favorite. He has consistently shot below par in practice rounds.

Frank Stranahan, the Toledo, O., veteran, is expected to lead the amateurs across the finish line.

Eight past champions are entered in the tournament.

Sitko Signs With San Francisco 49'ers

SAN FRANCISCO, April 6.—(INS)—The San Francisco 49ers of the National Professional Football league announced today that they have signed Emil "Six Yard" Sitko, former Notre Dame all American, for the 1950 season.

Football Coach Bernie Bierman has changed his find and is willing to accept the athletic directorship at the University of Minnesota if it is offered to him.

SHIRLEY AND HER 'TANTALIZER'

BEAUTIFUL SHIRLEY TEGGE, 20-year-old "Miss U. S. A. of 1949," can always turn to fish fly manufacturing in case she decides to quit radio and TV acting. The former Powers model, now in Los Angeles, is an expert bait maker from Iron River, Mich., where she created the "Tegge Tantalizer" (inset) and other flies to earn money while in high school. Her father sold them in his store. (International)

MEYER NOT WORRIED ABOUT PIRATES

thta landed them in sixth place, Pittsburgh would have smashed its attendance record, set the previous season.

This is mentioned to show how effective old Bill's predictions of things which never come have been. There's a report the Pirate owners have delegated him the task of appearing to be unruffled and confident about his club at all times.

In return, he has their promise that his efforts as a manager will not be questioned, and later they hope to give Bill the type of first division team he now pretends to have.

The cry "wait 'till next year" could rightly be raised opening day at Forbes field.

Manager Billy Southworth believes the Boston Braves will return to their 1948 form this year. "The winter deals," he said, have considerably strengthend our club.

IN THE HORSE RACING world, Mrs. E. L. Hopkins' Three Rings is being acclaimed for his handicap triumphs in Florida, the latest of which was a victory over both Coaltown and Armed in the McLennon. Hedley Woodhouse is up on Three Rings here. (International)

Jon B. Shastid Industrial Head For Cancer Drive

Appointment of Jon B. Shastid, vice president of the Somerville Iron Works, as chairman of the industrial committee for the 1950 cancer crusade of the American Cancer society, was announced today by Edwin O. Feass and Mrs. Blake H. Waldo, campaign co-chairmen.

Increasing support for the fund raising and educational campaign of the American Cancer society is coming from industry, Mr. Edwin O. Feass declared.

Business men are among the first to recongize the staggering waste that follows in the wake of cancer.

You'll find that it's really exciting to have a weed-free, velvety-smooth lawn . . . the kind that neighbors envy.

You must start with good seed. Our mixtures are made from high germinating seed in formulas to meet your needs.

BIDS—BALLOTS

Notice is hereby given that the County Commissioners invite sealed bids for the printing, furnishing, and delivering to the Court House in appropriate packages all the necessary ballots for the Primary Election to be held Tuesday, May 16, 1950, said bids to be submitted based on unit prices, units for each bid to be on the basis of 1,000 ballots, and, when the same are printed, if there are fractions of 1,000, said fractions shall be paid for on a pro rata basis.

The ballots shall be in size and form essentially as used in the Primary Election of 1946. A complete copy of the ballots, together with the forms certified from the Commonwealth of Pennsylvania, may be examined in the office of the County Commissioners.

In making said bid the bidder shall understand and agree that said ballots shall be printed on the quality of paper, with the size and form of type, with the arrangement of the offices to be filled and the names of candidates for the same with the width and location of margins required by the laws of this Commonwealth, and in all things and in all respects comply with said laws.

Bidders must also understand that in two districts in the County of Lawrence there must be furnished Progressive ballots, which will be approximately five ballots in each of the two districts, as appearing by the registration now on file.

Also, the bidders must furnish the necessary ballots as required in all voting districts in Little Beaver Township and North Beaver Township on bonded indebtedness for school purposes, which will be on separate ballots.

In submitting his bid, the bidder is authorized to assume that the approximate number of ballots required will be as follows: for the Republican Party 34,105 official ballots and 6,405 official specimen ballots, also 3,310 official reserve ballots and 865 specimen reserve ballots, making an approximate total of Republican ballots of 44,685; for the Democratic Party, 15,560 official ballots and 2,988 official specimen ballots, also 1,620 official reserve ballots, and 555 specimen reserve ballots, making an approximate total of Democratic ballots of 20,723. The bidder must also understand that these figures are approximate only and that he will be required to furnish whatever ballots are necessary to be furnished.

When the time comes to actually print said ballots, proof of each form of ballot shall be submitted to the County Commissioners for approval thereof before the ballots shall be finally printed. The ballots are to be delivered to the office of the Chief Clerk of the County Commissioners at the Court House, New Castle, Pennsylvania, on or before Tuesday, May 9, 1950, as to all election district outside of the City of New Castle, and on Wednesday, May 10, 1950, as to all election districts within the City of New Castle.

The successful bidder will be required to enter into a written contract for the printing, binding in books of appropriate size, furnishing, and delivering of said ballots and to give the required bonds with surety to be approved by the County Commissioners.

Each bid shall be submitted in a sealed envelope, plainly marked "Primary Ballot Bid" and will be received by the Chief Clerk of the County Commissioners on or before Monday, April 10, 1950, at ten o'clock a.m., E.S.T., and not afterwards, at which time said bids will be opened publicly by the County Commissioners at their office. The Commissioners contemplate awarding the contract to the lowest and best bidder. All bids must be accompanied by a certified check for $300.00, payable to the County Treasurer of Lawrence County to be forfeited to the County to the extent that the County suffers loss by reason of the successful bidder not signing the contract or giving the required bonds within 5 days after the contract is awarded to him.

The County Commissioners reserve the right to reject any and/or all bids.

Wilson Is Named Half-Century Man

WASHINGTON.—The magazine U. S. News and World Report named Woodrow Wilson "man of the half century" for his "decisive influence upon the course of world affairs."

The publication, an independent news weekly published here, credited Wilson with shaking the United States out of its traditional isolationism and persuadng it to join the Allies in the First World War.

Thus, it said, he "tipped the scales on the side of victory in the First World War" and "affected the whole destiny of our modern civilization."

NEW YORK, April 6.—(INS)—The stock market displayed selective strength today with motor issues outstanding.

Large blocks of Chysler and General Motors changed hands at the outset. Chrysler rose ½ point to 67 on renewed hopes of an impending strike settlement, while motors gained ¼ to a new high at 80 on reports of booming sales.

Elsewhere in the industrial list, the volatile Allied Chemical ran up 3 points to 224, American Cyanamid was up ⅜ at 58¾; American Can up ¼ at 117¼ and Union Carbide up ⅛ at 44⅞. DuPont, Bethlehem Ste

Cleveland Woman Patents Technicolor Easter Chicks

CLEVELAND, April 6—(INS)—Some of this year's Easter eggs will be popped open by chicks born technicolored, thanks to a Cleveland woman who couldn't bear to see the young birds in pain.

Mrs. Aya M. Kiss told today how 20 years of research, which has finally yielded success, began because she was shocked by the sight of chicks "being heartlessly dipped in dye" for the holiday celebration.

Her revolutionary method of coloring chicks was demonstrated recently at the Wene Chick Farms in Vineland, N.J., fifty vivid green, pink, and yellow balls of fuzz popped their way out of their shells to the astonishment of onlookers.

Punched In Advance

Mrs. Kiss achieved the coloring effect by inoculating the eggs with a patented chemical fluid three weeks before they hatched. Each egg is punctured with an ordinary, sterilized pin, inoculated, and then sealed with a special glue.

"There is a different injection for each color," Mrs. Kiss said.

"And whether the colors turn out pastel or dark, light green or intense green, depends on where you inject the liquid."

She is flooded now with offers from businessmen, inquiries from universities, and the chance for big profits.

"But I've been poor too long to rush now," the slight, blonde Mrs. Kiss said.

Her interest in small animals extends back to her childhood days and the influence of her father, a small stock and poultry man.

But it took an aversion towards suffering in small animals to convert a casual interest into the driving force that has carried Mrs. Kiss into fields of scientific research usually reserved for the formally educated.

Formerly A Chef

Mrs. Kiss, who never got beyond the eighth grade, has worked hard and long to educate herself in her "spare time." Mrs. Kiss was born in Calexico, Calif., fifty years ago. She has worked as a chef in many parts of the United States for 25 years.

Until her "hobby" displaced all other activity last year, she worked on nine different problems simultaneously. Her chick-coloring process is the first to be demonstrated publicly.

Immediately after the first group of consistently colored chicks hatched in 1947 Mrs. Kiss arranged to file her patent, owned in part by a Cleveland attorney and four others.

Secret Formula

The formula used in inoculating eggs is secret. However, Mrs. Kiss stresses the fact that she uses only ingredients fully approved by the pure food and drug laws.

"Consequently, they in no way spoil the taste of the chicken," Mrs. Kiss, the culinary expert, noted. "I use vegetable oils, which are edible, rather than dyes, which are not."

Experts have indicated that Mrs. Kiss' process may be used to replace present banding and stamping methods employed by breeders, because the coloration remains in the feet after it has disappeared from the rest of the chick.

DESERTED TOO OFTEN

UNIONTOWN, Pa. — When Judge W. Russell Carr asked Donald Calhoun why he refused to support his wife, Calhoun replied she had deserted him "50 times". A non-support charge against him was dismissed.
